Report No Opposition To 65 Plan

Approximately 50 persons attended a public hearing Tuesday night at the J. Watson Bailey School Auditorium to participate in discussions on the question of whether or not the Kingston Board of Education of the Consolidated School District shall grant tax exemptions to persons 65 years of age or older.

Most were elderly. There was no opposition to the tax exemption proposal. Ira M. Shaw, associate superintendent for Business Management, presided at the session, which was attended by board members.

Most of those in attendance were elderly area residents who are personally concerned with their problems. Questions were asked by some city residents regarding the possible impact such a plan would have on other taxpayers. School officials explained that no accurate figures are available at this time.

Assures Early Decision
Arthur Withall, board president, assured those present that a decision by the school board would be made before the January meeting, and possibly announced at the meeting scheduled for Dec. 1.

Mayor Raymond W. Garraghan attended the hearing and noted that the Common Council as yet had made no decision for holding a hearing on the matter in the city, although a hearing might be called sometime in January.

Want Applicants For Provisional Patrolmen Here
Police Chief Robert F. Murphy today announced that his department is interested in obtaining young men to serve as provisional patrolmen.

Men between the ages of 21 and 29 in fit physical condition may apply at police headquarters, City Hall. They must also have satisfactory character and background.

Only a physical examination will be required for first appointment, but those who later become interested in permanent appointment may take the regular civil service examination.

At this time it is planned to appoint four or five men, the chief said. The bid to gain needed men on the force by provisional appointment was recently approved by the Board of Police Commissioners.

Present department complement is 55 men and it is four men short. The force previously had 61 men, but it was temporarily reduced when the career plan was approved. It is expected to be restored to a complement of 61 men in the near future.

Department duties have increased year by year, mainly over the last decade and within the past three years the force had been as many as 10 men short due to resignations largely because of the city's inability to approve a proposed career plan (Continued on Page 41, Col. 3)

Astros Arrive at Cape To File Flight Report

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Flashing broad grins, the Gemini 12 astronauts flew back to Cape Kennedy today and thanked the launch crews for the perfect blastoff that enabled them to end America's Gemini project with a record-shattering space flight.

Navy Capt. James A. Lovell Jr. and Air Force Maj. Edwin E. (Buzz) Aldrin Jr. landed here in separate planes about 11 a.m. (EST) after a two-hour trip from the aircraft carrier Wasp, which plucked the astronauts from the western Atlantic Ocean Tuesday.

Their four-day orbital journey concluded the historic Gemini program and opened the gate to the Apollo man-to-the-moon project. As America's newest heroes landed onto solid ground for the first time since their fiery rocket departure last Friday, they were greeted by a large red, white and blue sign which listed all 10 manned Gemini flights and said: "Gemini program successful."

Another read "Welcome back Jim and Buzz." "We're last but not least," Lovell said. "Buzz and I are both happy to end the Gemini program with what we hope was a success."

"We've had quite a bit of fun and experience. A lot of thrills, some troubles, but I think we've learned a lot and gained some more knowledge toward our space efforts, and we're anxiously looking forward to apply this new knowledge we've learned toward future programs. "Everybody here has done an outstanding job to get us into space," Lovell said.

Safe and Sound
Then, Lovell added, "The spacecraft behaved and got us back home, nice safe and sound with no trouble and of course we're thankful for that."

Champion space-walker Aldrin then stepped forward and said: "I feel humble and proud to have been a part of the last flight in Gemini. What we did up there and what we saw was a treat for me as an individual."

It was just fantastic. "We certainly appreciate all the work that has gone into making this flight a success."

Then Aldrin unfurled a "Go Army, Beat Navy" sign which he had unfurled in space during his record walk outside the capsule. Aldrin is a West Point graduate.

"I told him he was in a very precarious position to be showing a sign like that to me," quipped Navy man Lovell. "I was on the inside and he was on the outside."

Lovell's mother, Mrs. Blanche Lovell of nearby Edgewater, Fla., was among a group of 700 persons who were at the Cape Kennedy landing strip to greet the astronauts.

10 Days of Talks
After shaking hands with many of the greeters, Lovell and Aldrin were whisked off by automobile for a medical examination and to begin 10 days of extensive flight debriefings.

The astronauts will remain at Cape Kennedy until Friday or Saturday, discussing their space flight in general terms. Then they will fly to the Manned Spacecraft Center, Houston, Tex., for several days of detailed debriefings.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson underwent successful surgery today — doctors said they found no malignancy — and in barely a half-hour was writing out questions for his doctors.

Out of Bed Later
Press secretary Bill D. Moyers said the doctors who performed twin operations — to remove a growth from Johnson's throat and repair an abdominal hernia — were satisfied with the outcome and with Johnson's condition.

He quoted them as saying the chief executive would be out of bed and taking a few steps around his third-floor hospital room later today.

Moyers reported Johnson began coming out of the anesthetic about 15 minutes after the surgery was completed.

In another 20 minutes, he said, Johnson was handed a pad and pencil — he is supposed to favor his throat for a while — and wrote out:

"Tell me something." The doctors then gave Johnson a brief account of the operation but, apparently, that did not fully satisfy him.

On Table 53 Minutes
Johnson reached for the pad again and wrote, "Tell me all that took place."

Earlier, in making a bare announcement that the surgery had been successful and no cancer was found, Moyers had said the procedure took 53 minutes.

Moyers said the polyp in the President's throat was larger than the doctors had expected. He said they estimated it at 4 by 5 millimeters — a millimeter is .04 of an inch — whereas in advance of the operation the doctors had estimated only 3 millimeters.

On Edge of Right Chord
Moyers said the doctors told him the polyp was located on the edge of the right vocal chord and had "dropped lower than the doctors had seen prior to the operation."

Moyers added that what the doctors called a "frozen section" of the polyp tissue was done immediately after the removal of the growth. This was for microscopic examination of the tissue to determine whether it showed any signs of malignancy.

U.S. Approves State Formula For Medicaid

WASHINGTON (AP) — The approval of medical assistance programs for low-income families and individuals including public assistance recipients in New York, Maine, Michigan, New Mexico, Vermont and the Virgin Islands.

U.S. Commissioner of welfare Ellen Winston said that with the exception of New Mexico, these states and the Virgin Islands are already offering medical assistance as authorized under Title XIX of the Social Security Act, popularly known as Medicaid.

Retrospective Here
Dr. Winston said federal approval is effective as of the date each state program began operating on a statewide basis. New Mexico's program is to start Dec. 1.

The commissioner called attention to a statement in a report of the House Ways and Means committee on Oct. 11, which cautioned the states "to (Continued on Page 41, Col. 4)

Viet Fighting Flares At Border, Buffer Zone

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Ground fighting flared anew on widely separated fronts today as American infantrymen battled the Viet Cong in Communist War Zone C near the Cambodian border and U.S.

Marines and South Vietnamese troops were locked in heavy fighting with Hanoi regulars near the buffer zone between the two Viet Nams.

Planes Back Up Yanks
U.S. planes, backing up the Americans in both areas, rained blows at the enemy. One Marine helicopter was shot down but there were no casualties. It was the 224th helicopter reported lost in South Viet Nam in the war.

As the Marines fought, the North Vietnamese soldiers about 10 miles south of the demilitarized zone, giant B52 bombers struck in embattled Tay Ninh Province 60 miles northwest of Saigon for the seventh straight day, following up 104 strikes on Viet Cong positions by smaller tactical bombers.

Outcome Not Reported
The B52 raid at mid-day came about the same time a battalion of 600 to 700 men of the U.S. 1st Infantry Division made contact with a Viet Cong force of unknown size. The outcome of the clash was not yet reported by U.S. headquarters.

To the north, two companies of Marines and two companies of South Vietnamese troops were reported in hard combat with what was believed to be a reinforced company of Hanoi regulars. It was the first heavy contact reported in the area since late September.

Battle Continuing
The Marines reported killing 14 North Vietnamese and a Marine spokesman said the fighting was continuing tonight. Both U.S. and South Vietnamese casualties were reported light.

Elsewhere, ground action was slack. Bad weather over North Viet Nam once again cut heavily into U.S. air strikes.

The U.S. Navy disclosed that it had sunk or damaged 299 Communist cargo barges off the coast of North Viet Nam in the first 20 days of a new campaign called Traffic Cop — to choke off seaborne infiltration into South Viet Nam.

Hurts Supply Line
Adm. Roy L. Johnson, commander in chief of the Pacific Fleet, said Traffic Cop has had a "substantial effect" on the Communist supply line.

He reported U.S. destroyers sank 155 barges and damaged 144 more from Oct. 25 through Nov. 13. Previously, the Navy (Continued on Page 41, Col. 3)

Seek Big Boost In Training of Pilots Next Year

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara faces a series of key decisions in the next few weeks on Army, Navy, and Air Force requests for huge increases in pilot training next year.

The Army, now training 325 pilots a month, is seeking the biggest boost. It wants Defense Department approval to train 800 pilots monthly by June 1968. To do so, sources said, it would have to add a fourth training base.

Note Expansion
The Navy, now building up to a monthly training output of 180 pilots, is seeking to expand its present facilities and train 218 pilots monthly next year.

The Air Force is in the tightest bind, training about 235 pilots and utilizing its eight training bases to capacity. It has asked for two more training bases.

With most budget requests for fiscal 1968 — which begins next July 1 — now in the decision-making process, Pentagon officials are reluctant to predict what McNamara will do. But some sources have indicated that most of the services' requests will be approved.

The services all report that increased Viet Nam air needs have severely strained their supply of combat pilots.

To Ease Shortage
Each has taken steps to ease the shortage: The Army has ordered some pilots back to Viet Nam for second 12-month tours of duty; the Navy has involuntarily extended the duty of hundreds of fliers for one year; (Continued on Page 48, Col. 4)

$98,447 Awarded To Paltz Center For Slow Learners

Congressman Joseph Y. Resnick today announced receipt of $98,447 grant for the Mid Hudson Regional Supplementary Educational Center in New Paltz.

The center, which is funded by the U. S. Office of Education, will provide for "slow learner" programs for potential senior high dropouts.

The new program will include assessments of these potential dropout students, new instructional approaches, selection of teachers to act in a "Mid Hudson Slower - learners specialists course," and provision of special facilities to allow for student participation in simulated occupational situations.

The center, directed by Dr. Raymond G. Kenyon, has received several other grants and has various supplementary educational programs now in progress.

Dr. Kenyon said, "This new branch will make possible innovative methods for reaching the estimated ten per cent of America's school-age population who are slow learners."

Labor Leaders Back Storm King Project

NEW YORK (AP) — Two labor leaders have testified in favor of the $184 million hydroelectric plant that the Consolidated Edison Co. wants to build on Storm King Mountain at Cornwall, N.Y. They noted that the project would provide jobs.

Other witnesses who spoke in favor of the project at a Federal Power Commission (FPC) hearing Tuesday included a spokesman for seven municipalities. The mayor of a community near the project on the west bank of the Hudson River in Orange County criticized foes of the plant.

Conservationists and other foes of the project also were heard at the second session of a new round of hearings on the seeking a new FPC license to build the plant after a license was set aside by a federal court, contends the plant would be vital insurance against a power blackout in New York City and Westchester County.

Opponents of the project repeated Tuesday that the plant would mar the beauty of the river, lead to huge overhead power lines, destroy marine life in the Hudson River and pollute upland water supplies through seeping of impure river water from the proposed 20-acre reservoir.

Among witnesses favoring the project were Peter J. Brennan, president of the New York State Building and Construction Trades Council with 387,000 members in 812 locals; and Henry P. McArdie, who spoke for the AFL-CIO International Union of Operating Engineers. (Continued on Page 41, Col. 6)

Award Contract For Creek Bridge Cleaning, Paint

Governor Nelson A. Rockefeller today announced the award of a contract for $49,985 to Ardley Construction Co. Inc. and Vassilarios Contracting Co. Inc., New York, for cleaning and painting the bridge over Rondout Creek on Route 9W.

The firm submitted the sole bid for the work. Scheduled for completion by Aug. 1, 1967, all work will be under the supervision of M. Nicholas Sinaori, district engineer in charge of the New York State Department of Public Works' District Office at Poughkeepsie.

Henry Knaust Dies; Was Banker, Church Leader

Henry Knaust of West Camp, one of the founders of the local mushroom industry and noted bank official, died this morning at St. Petersburg, Fla.

Full Extent of Italy Flood Still Not Known 12 Days After Disaster

FLORENCE, Italy (AP) — In the early hours of Nov. 4 Italy — often called the fragile country because of its susceptibility to natural disaster — was hit by the worst flooding in its history.

Four major rivers — the Arno, the Adige, the Tagliamento and the Po — were pushed over their banks by heavy rains and, with phenomenally high tides from the Adriatic Sea and overflows from scores of streams, inundated a third of the nation.

The disaster swept and swirled through central and north Italy from the Dolomite Alps north of Venice to the southern edge of Tuscany south of Florence.

Florence and Venice, unique in their own ways and among the brightest jewels in the diadem of Italian cities, were badly damaged.

More than 100 persons were known to have perished; the final toll may reach 300. One of the country's richest agricultural heartlands was devastated. Industries and commerce in the disaster area were stopped.

Irreplaceable art works were damaged. Some of the greatest architectural splendors of Western civilization were harmed.

The Italian economy, just emerging from its recession of two years ago, suffered a major setback.

It was a disaster without precedent in modern Italy. Even now, nearly two weeks later, the full extent of the catastrophe is not yet clear.

The damage to the nation — and to the world — was almost incalculable.

On Nov. 9 the Italian government ordered an emergency appropriation of 47 billion lire — $75.2 million — to help the flood victims. The Cabinet set a 10 lire — 1.6 cents — a liter — quart — gasoline tax designed to bring in $500 million a year through December 1968.

This was a first measure only. For the great long-range task of rebuilding the economy of the stricken zones, it was expected that the government might have to impose new taxes on tobacco, alcoholic beverages and other consumer items and perhaps even float a national loan.

Giving his first parliamentary report on the disaster, Premier Aldo Moro declared Nov. 11 that the floods had wiped out the economic gains achieved since the recession. He called for a period of national austerity.

He said that it was still impossible accurately to assess the overall cost of the floods. Estimates ran up to $2.5 billion, more than a fourth of the national budget.

Most industry in the stricken areas was knocked out of operation. Production of Venetian (Continued on Page 48, Col. 4)

Progress Reported on New Buildings in RVCS Area

Dr. Ted T. Grenda, Rondout Valley Superintendent of Schools, reported on the status of the building program at the November meeting of the Rondout Board of Education.

The Middle School construction is moving well, with foundations being poured. Work has begun on the high school addition.

Worry of FALSE TEETH Slipping or Irritating?

Don't be embarrassed by loose false teeth slipping, dropping or wobbling when you eat, talk or laugh. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH on your plates. This pleasant powder gives a remarkable sense of added comfort and security by holding plates more firmly. No gummy, goopy, pasty taste. Dentures that fit are essential to health. See your dentist regularly. Get FASTEETH at all drug counters.

Following a meeting of the architect, general contractor, Frank Race, superintendent of buildings and grounds, and Percy Greene, clerk of the works, the temporary units at the Marletown School are installed and in use. Work at the Accord School was nearly finished at the time of the board meeting, with occupancy scheduled for this week. The units at the Kerhonkson School are slated for Dec. 1st completion.

New Evaluation Plan

A new formula for reporting on teaching personnel has been developed by the administrative council. Three annual reports on probationary teachers and two on tenure people will be made to the superintendent. In addition, Dr. Grenda has started a program of visiting each teacher in the district at least twice a year. At the January meeting, the board will be brought up to date on personnel, with the first half of the meeting to be given over to an executive session. Dr. Grenda's work, and that of all professional and classified employees, will be evaluated at this time.

Appointments Made

A recommendation to re-appoint Mrs. Evelyn Goss to the academic staff was approved. Mrs. Goss, who has been on leave of absence since July 1 for reasons of health, will teach first grade at the Marletown School. James W. Davis, high school principal, reported to the board on the progress of the accreditation program. Dr. Grenda, Harold Rich and David McBie are making a detailed study of cafeteria operation.

Three members of the board and Dr. Grenda will attend the 2nd session of the School Board Institute in Fishkill on Dec. 7. Topic of the session will be "The Teacher's Role in School District Policy Making". Board members making the trip will be Horace Sarr, Herbert Slemmer and Donald DuBois.

Bonds Are Sold

It was reported Oct. 26, $2,933,000 worth of bonds for the construction of the new Rondout Valley Middle School and the addition to the high school were sold. The purchaser, the Morgan Guaranty and Trust Company of New York City, paid a total of $2,949,000, which represents a premium of $16,000 that can be used for the clock, bell and sound system in the new school. The bonds were sold at a time most favorable to the school district, with the prevailing interest rate of 3.90 the lowest to be reported in some time. What was especially gratifying to the board of education and the administration, said Rondout Superintendent of Schools Dr. Ted Grenda, was the interest shown in the bonds by New York City as well as by upstate bankers.

Rules Topless Two Must Stand Trial

NEW YORK (AP) — Two of the city's first topless waitresses must stand trial on charges of indecent exposure and creating a public nuisance, a judge has ruled.

Criminal Court Judge Walter H. Gladwin set the trial for Nov. 29 after listening to testimony Tuesday at a hearing for Ruby Diamond, 28, and Florence Rose Mayer, 27.

The judge said descriptions of the coverings of breasts of the two girls — pasties the size of a silver dollar — convinced him there was enough evidence for a trial.

Church Leader To Attend Area Baptist Parley

Harold Van Allen, Kingston, vice chairman of the Eastern New York Committee for World Mission of the American Baptist Convention Campaign, will attend a meeting of the committee at the Crossroads Restaurant, Latham, at noon Saturday. Van Allen said that 15 cities will be represented at the meeting, the purpose of which will be to review progress in the major gifts phase of the 20 million dollar drive for capital funds, to strengthen and extend the home and foreign mission program of the denomination and to set up a schedule for the local church campaign which will begin in January. At present, members of the committee are accepting speaking engagements, explaining the program to local Baptist congregations.

Van Allen is an employee of IBM in the communications department. He is active in many church and civic groups, serving as president of the Kingston Area Council of Churches, as chairman of the Board of Missions of the First Baptist Church, Kingston, and as one of four area vice presidents of American Baptist Men of the New York State Baptist Convention, as well as involvement in the United Fund Committee in Ulster County and vice presidency of the Lions Club in Hurley.

Kong Le Returns

VIETNAMESE, Laos (AP) — Gen. Kong Le, commander of the neutralist Laotian army of some 10,000 men, returned to Vientiane Tuesday night and took refuge in the Indonesian Embassy, senior officers at the royal army's headquarters reported today.

Kong Le went to Bangkok, Thailand, last month following an attempt by rightist army generals to pressure him into integrating his forces into the royal army.

Marletown Group To Meet Thursday

Future programs for the organization will be discussed. Reports from the various committees will be heard.

Meteor Show Due Tonight

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — A meteor shower after midnight tonight may produce one of the most spectacular sky shows in more than a century.

The Leonid meteors may flash through the skies about 2 a. m. (EST), toward the east and a little south. Weather, however, could obscure the show. Leonids accounted for the greatest meteor shower on record the night of Nov. 12-13, 1833, described by one observer as "a tempest of falling stars." The Leonids, whose name comes from their apparent origin in the constellation Leo, are believed to be debris from comet Tempel-Tuttle. The tiny fragments produce a glow as they hit the earth's atmosphere.

Dave Peterson, YMCA physical director is presently attending a YMCA three-hour credit course on The Nature and Practice of Group Supervision. The course is being conducted at YMCA Camp Letts in Edgewater, Md. Camp Letts is a part of the Washington, D. C. YMCA.

Instructor for the course is Clarence (Red) Moser, who has been associated with the YMCA for 42 years. The course deals mainly with the principles and practices of a helpful supervisor and is taught on a graduate level. The course began Nov. 8 and will continue through Nov. 17. Seminars, morning presentations, and evening projects occur daily.

Peterson attended the University of Georgia. Through his work there he received 13 hours credit toward becoming a fully certified YMCA secretary, leaving 17 hours to be obtained through courses similar to the one now being conducted. The purpose of these courses is to aid the YMCA employee in his professional development and growth.

The YMCA, an agency of the Ulster County Community Chest, plans on sending Peterson to another YMCA credit course next May.

No December Divorces

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Indianapolis Superior Court Judge Wilbur H. Grant says he will not approve divorces of parents during December. "This is the period of the year that appeals especially to youngsters and I don't think it proper to allow anything that will be upsetting them at Christmas time," he said.

Demonstrate New Equipment for County Firemen

Members of the Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association were given a demonstration of modern fire fighting equipment at the November session held at Hurley Firehouse Tuesday night when representatives of 31 fire companies met as guests of Hurley Fire Company.

A representative of the Young Fire Equipment Corporation of Buffalo had on view one of the most modern pieces of fire equipment, William Boys, factory sales representative, and William Nichols of Hyde Park, local representative, were present to speak on the features of the equipment and give a demonstration.

Welcomed Gathering

President Robert Kuhar of Ellenville presided at the meeting and the visitors were welcomed by Chief Kenneth Cudney of the Hurley Company.

Among the guests present were Joseph Briody and George Lare, members of the Orange County Inter-County Committee, and Walter Lesser, a past president of the Orange County Volunteer Firemen's Association and a vice president of Hudson Valley Volunteer Firemen's Association.

Ulster County Fire Coordinator Winfred Snyder of Hurley gave his report for October. During the month there were 834 calls recorded at Fire Control Headquarters. There were six Mutual Aid calls, 93 fire calls, 29 emergency calls and one false alarm. There was one inter-county call to Ellenville from Sullivan County.

Fire Coordinator Snyder reported the fire training school scheduled for Highland and Rifton would have to be postponed as there were not sufficient hours left in the program. The programs in the two communities will be re-scheduled.

Legislative Report

A report of the Legislative Committee meeting in Albany was given by Alvin Beatty. That meeting was held at Albany in October at which time bills to come before the state legislature were discussed. There were 612 representatives from the counties of New York State present, representing the various County Fire Associations. At the conference 19 bills were discussed, some were approved and others were referred to the Law Committee of the Firemen's Association.

First definite traces of the science of algebra were found in the writings of Ahmes, an Egyptian who lived about 1700 B.C.

Among the bills considered by the Legislative Committee were some relating to arson, school safety, false alarms and injuries or death occurring while firemen were responding to false alarms and numerous other suggested bills which might effect volunteer firemen.

In May the Association adopted a resolution in relation to standardization of radio equipment. A motion to rescind that action was offered at the meeting and was defeated by a vote of 35 to 23.

The usual Christmas gift sent each year to residents from Ulster County at the State Firemen's Home in Hudson was again approved.

At the conclusion of the business session an instructive fire film was shown. The movie, "Analysis of a Bulk Plant Fire," showed an actual fire at a gasoline bulk storage plant in Kansas City. The film was an actual recording of the fire and showed mistakes which had been made by the firefighters. In showing the film these mistakes were outlined and corrective measures were discussed to prevent repeating these mistakes at future fires of a similar nature.

Stone Ridge Man Elected Director At Honeywell Inc.

Retired president of American Telephone & Telegraph Co., Eugene J. McNeely, has been elected a director of Honeywell Inc., James H. Binger, board chairman of the automation systems company, announced.

McNeely, who was president of AT&T from 1961 until his retirement in 1963, resides in Stone Ridge.

In addition to being a director of AT&T for more than a decade, McNeely holds directorships of Continental Oil Co., Travelers Insurance Co., and Consolidated Electronics Industries Corp.

He is a trustee of the East River Savings Bank, and of Teachers College — Columbia University, and is chairman of the New York State Science and Technology Foundation.

Born in Jackson, Mo., Nov. 1, 1900, McNeely graduated from the University of Missouri in 1922 with a BS degree. He began his telephone career immediately thereafter with the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., St. Louis, where he became general plant manager in 1947.

A year later, McNeely was named assistant vice president in charge of personnel relations for AT&T in New York. Subsequently he became vice president in charge of operations for Northwestern Bell in Omaha and was president of Northwestern Bell from 1949 until 1952 when he moved to New York as vice president of the parent organization.

From 1955 until 1961, McNeely was an executive vice president of AT&T, leading to his election as president in 1961.

Dear Abby . . . His Best Defense Is A Good Offense

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My boyfriend stood me up last night. He didn't call me before work this morning to explain, so I called him later and he got mad at me for being mad at him for standing me up. He said I should have "understood." Tell me, what are the ethics in such a situation?

WITTHOLD MY NAME
DEAR WITHHELD: Your boyfriend has learned that the best defense is a good offense. It's bad enough that he stood you up, but if you could reach him by phone later, he could have reached you by phone to explain. Lose him. Unless you are prepared to "understand" a lot of other things you can't understand.

DEAR ABBY: How can a good looking single girl get a fur coat?

PEGGY
DEAR PEGGY: Get a wolf and skin him.

DEAR ABBY: There is a lady in my neighborhood everybody calls "PRIVATE IDA" because she goes around like a detective inspecting everybody's trash. She's actually been seen going up and down the alleys looking into people's trash cans.

She told someone that she learns a lot about people that way. She knows who cooks nice meals, and who opens cans and serves TV dinners. She says she knows the beer drinkers, gin drinkers, and wine drinkers. And how much they drink, too. What can be done about a busy body like her?

A NEIGHBOR

DEAR NEIGHBOR: Every neighborhood has its characters who provide comic relief. Enjoy them!

DEAR ABBY: My daughter is 34, has two children, and has been a widow for five years. She is planning to get married again. Her fiancé is 40 and has never been married. He wants a big, formal church wedding with all the trimmings. Do we have to go thru all that expense again?

It cost us over $1,500 the first time, and we are old now and retired. And that would mean going into our life savings. I really don't know anything about how to do a second wedding. Can you help me?

NO NAME PLEASE
DEAR NO NAME: Explain the circumstances to your clergyman. It can be a beautiful church wedding, but all the frills and formality (bridal veil, etc.) are inappropriate for the second time around. If the groom insists on a lot of extras that would put a strain on your pocketbook, let him provide them.

How has the world been treating you? Unload your problems on Dear Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal., 90069. For a personal, unpublished, reply, enclose a self-addressed stamped envelope.

For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send $1 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069.

Olive Baptists Elect Officers

The deacons of the Olive-Shokan Baptist Church, West Shokan, elected Francis Every as chairman and Lawrence Every as secretary for the 1966-67 church year.

The deacons also set aside Saturday, Nov. 19, as clean-up day of the church building and grounds and approved the purchase of two church signs to be put up near Boiceville and near the intersection of Routes 213 and 28A.

During the regular morning worship service, Sunday, Nov. 6, Mrs. Louise Schlatterer was accepted into the fellowship of the church by letter from the Calvary Baptist Church, Bellflower, Calif., and was given the right-hand of Christian fellowship.

City, Three Towns Firms Employ Most of Residents

Geographically nearly 80 per cent of the total industrial employment was concentrated in the Towns of Saugerties, Ulster, Wawarsing and the City of Kingston.

This fact was revealed in the 1966 Ulster County Data Book.

Has One-third

The Town of Ulster alone registered over one-third of total industrial employment in 1965, with the City of Kingston accounting for nearly one-quarter of total industrial employment in the same year.

The data book, published by the County Planning Board, contains an industrial survey completed in 1965 of all the industrial firms in the county, arranged by the type of industry and listed the employment range also. The County Planning Board estimates that there were some 15,800 industrial employees working at some 237 industries located in the county.

Industrial expansion has stimulated population growth in Ulster in recent years. A general rule of thumb is that for every one industrial job there are roughly two other jobs created, and Ulster is no exception to the rule.

Most of the county's industrial employment is concentrated in firms specializing in the manufacture of computers, magnetic and electronic control equipment, TV antennas and electronic equipment, cooling devices for electronic equipment, apparel and textile, and explosive detonators.

Has Diversity

Ulster has quite a diversity of industrial types ranging from processors of stone ground flour to those manufacturing computers; from those manufacturing wooden toys to those manufacturing blasting powder and cement and aggregate materials; from manufactures of maternity dresses to manufactures of barges.

The size of Ulster's plants ranged from those employing only one person to one employing over 5,000 employees. About 90 per cent of the industrial firms interviewed recorded less than 100 employees in 1965.

The apparel and textile and the metals and machinery industrial groups combined employed nearly 80 per cent of the total industrial workers in Ulster in 1965. Firms manufacturing a variety of products from cigars to closed circuit TV comprised the second largest industrial group in terms of employment accounting for 7 per cent of industrial employment. The remaining employment was split wood products, paper products rather evenly between such industrial categories as food, and aggregate.

Communication Aids
WASHINGTON (AP) — Two Syncom communications satellites are providing the Defense Department with alternate, though limited, communications routes into Southeast Asia.
In one of the rare reports on Syncom status since the satellites were converted last year to military service, Finn Larsen, deputy director of defense research and engineering, disclosed that Syncom 2 is in operation 12 hours a day and Syncom 3 22 hours a day.
Larsen told a National Space club luncheon Tuesday that Syncom 2 provides 16 Teletype channels, and Syncom 3 16 Teletype channels and a single voice channel.
Syncom 2, about 22,300 miles above the Indian Ocean, serves as a communication link between a ground station at Camp Roberts, Calif., and Saigon, South Viet Nam. Syncom 3 over the international date line at the equator, handles military traffic between the United States and Japan.

New Welfare Centers
WASHINGTON (AP) — Directors of state public welfare agencies are being urged to speed establishment of public welfare centers in low-income neighborhoods throughout the nation.
U.S. Commissioner of Welfare Ellen Winston explained federal funds that can be used for such centers.
Need for local centers — which include night and weekend emergency service — has been highlighted by reports from centers already operating, she said.

Boost in U.S. Travel
WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler says the way to hold down the American travel dollar drain is to get foreigners to come to the United States.
He told a conference of 500 European travel agents and travel writers that it would be undesirable to try to limit American travel abroad as a tool to cut the dollar drain.

Barry's Mate Says Viet Top Issue

STAUNTON, Va. (AP) — William E. Miller, the 1964 Republican vice presidential candidate, says the war in Viet Nam "is the issue to pre-empt the thinking of all Americans."

"I say now, as I have said since 1964," the Lockport, N.Y., lawyer said, "our decision to defend freedom in Viet Nam is correct. The only argument is the implementation of it."
He told a Mary Baldwin College audience Tuesday that the nation must "end the war as quickly as we can, saving the most lives we can."

The running mate of Barry Goldwater also said that GOP victories in New York, Massachusetts and California during last week's off-year elections indicate that "we are once again in business."

Need for A-Power
BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Future state growth in power systems must be met largely by new burning plants such as nuclear facilities since New York has run out of possible hydro-electric power sites, says the chief nuclear engineer of Niagara Mohawk Power Corp.

"In our state, the desirable hydro sites under construction or not yet developed would add but a few thousand kilowatts of firm electrical generating capacity," Howard D. Philbin said Tuesday night.

He spoke at a meeting of American Chemical Society members.

The added hydro supply will be absorbed by the state in a year at the predicted power demand increases, he added.

RECEIVE STATE CROSS—Mr. and Mrs. Floyd G. Newkirk, 15 Underwood Street, Saugerties, are pictured at their home after being presented the New York State Conspicuous Service Cross, posthumously awarded to their son, Pvt. Thomas C. Newkirk. The presentation was made last week by Major Robert Pierce, Operation Officer for the West Point Post Engineer, on behalf of the governor and people of the State of New York. Pvt. Newkirk lost his life protecting his comrades last September in Viet Nam. Only 19 years old at the time he died, he was killed in action as a result of chest wounds while on a search and destroy mission with his company, when he ran forward under fire to give aid to his fallen and injured comrades. He had previously been awarded the Bronze Star for bravery.

Legion Auxiliary Plans for Yule

Plans for the annual Christmas party, to be held Thursday, Dec. 8, were discussed at the regular monthly meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary, Lamouree Post 72, last week. With President Catherine Teetsel presiding, members were requested to bring exchange gifts to this party, as well as a contribution to the covered dish supper which will be a part of the evening.

Reports of standing committees were as follows: Julie Cox, cancer control and child welfare—50 pounds material, 30 pounds silk stockings for cancer pads; 14 white shirts for bed jackets; clothing valued at $64 for 10 children.

Carrie Kenney, community service—43 hours of time given by members.

Anne Johnson, chaplain—flower arrangement sent for the 90th birthday of a member.

Catherine Van Gaasbeek, membership—43 paid members; publicity and radio—200 inches of publicity in newspapers and two pictures and four radio announcements.

The Auxiliary also voted to donate 10 American flags to the Mt. Marion School and sent checks for $40.80 for rehabilitation tax, for $50 for Christmas gifts for the Albany Veterans Hospital gift shop, and for $5 for postage to the Veterans Hospital.

Members of the local Auxiliary will work in the Albany gift shop Monday, Dec. 5. All those who can do so are asked to help out in the hospital shop on that date. At that time, those working will help veterans select gifts and wrap them for mailing to relatives at Christmas, with no expense involved for the veterans.

Quarrymen Move Further Ahead In Dartball Play

Quarryville extended its lead in the Saugerties Dartball League pennant competition Monday night. The Quarrymen took a 2 to 1 split over American Legion to move slightly higher up the ladder for a three game edge over the nearest competition, the Trinity team.

Three teams scored clean sweeps in Monday's play. They were: Centerville Vols over Southside Men's Club, Golden Eagles over Cementon, and Malden-West Camp over High Woods. Other games played resulted in 2 to 1 splits with Saugerties Contractors besting Centerville and West Camp rolling over Trinity.

LCW at West Camp

Lutheran Church Women of St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church, West Camp meets 7:30 tonight at the parish hall. Program leaders on More than Merry Christmas, will be Mrs. Ruth Prendergast and Mrs. Silvia Tobiansen. Those attending will bring canned goods for the Thanksgiving project.

Yes Vote Urged For Bond Issue Of $1,585,000

Saugerties voters will approve or disapprove a whopping $1,585,000 bond issue for additions at the Glasco and Mt. Marion Schools Tuesday, Nov. 29. Voting will take place at the Main Street School auditorium and polls will be open from 12 noon until 9 p. m.

In conjunction with the bond issue vote, the local Board of Education will hold a public hearing Monday, Nov. 21, at 8:15 p. m. in the High School auditorium, to explain the need for passage of the bond issue.

The board says expansion is needed at the two schools because, "We have run out of room again and the school population is still increasing." Members maintain the only alternative to building the additions is increasing transportation problems and arranging split sessions.

Dr. Dexter O. Arnold, superintendent of Saugerties Central Schools said this week that he was hopeful visits by parents and residents to schools here during the recent observance of American Education Week had proven the need for a favorable vote on the Nov. 29 bond issue. He said he was sure that seeing the schools, teachers and students in the actual conduct of work had proven that some facilities are excellent and some less than satisfactory.

He praised the Board of Education as being conscientious and constantly striving to improve the education system here. He was also hopeful that visits to the schools had assured the people that their money is being used to good advantage, that the operation and administration of schools is efficient and that only a real need makes bond issues and higher budgets necessary. He urged a "yes" vote on the bond issue to prevent the program of the schools from being seriously hampered.

First Congregational

First Congregational Church school classes for all age groups meet at 10 a. m. each Sunday. Visitors and new members are cordially invited to attend. Mark Imhoff will lead the opening devotions this week.

Morning services for worship and prayer at 11 a. m. Last week the sermon topic was "Stepping Stones to Thanksgiving." This week the topic will be "The Second Stepping Stone to Thanksgiving." This thought will be continued in the Thanksgiving Eve service.

Youth Choir will sing this week. Beginning this week at rehearsal, Mrs. Cole will have the assistance of Mrs. Kropp and Mrs. Ward. Miss Dunn will also assist with her phase of the work. The efforts of these workers will release Rev. Imhoff of his responsibilities with the choir. Thanks were extended for the needed help in this work, since Youth Choir now represents a major youth activity.

Mrs. McGinnis will have an issue of "The Message" ready Sunday. This will contain in detail the church's plans to be in capsule form for this month.

Using both Wednesday night and all day Saturday on the parsonage, several men have brought the work two steps nearer to completion. With some additional help, it still remains possible that residents could move in by Jan. 1. Inspection of the upper floor is cordially invited.

Mrs. Hrdlicks announces that the date set for the annual Christmas sale is Nov. 25 and 26 at the Savings and Loan building on Main Street.

Mrs. Hemphill and Mrs. Kropp have made inquiry about the re-forming of a nursery class during the church hour. Those interested may speak to either of them or the minister about this matter.

Present AL Trophy

Several Saugerties residents attended the annual Ulster County American Legion dinner and dance last Saturday at Sullivan Shaffer Post 176 in New Paltz. They were: Robert Brink, commander of Lamouree Hackett Post 72, of Saugerties; Mr. and Mrs. Donald Rothrock, Mrs. Catherine Van Gaasbeek, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lowther, and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Wands. The affair honored Department Commander James P. Heneghan, of Huntington, L. I., and Department President Mrs. William J. Hutchings, of Bath.

The Saugerties Legion Post, as usual, presented its annual trophy in memory of Donald Swart. Winning the trophy, given to the first area post to meet its membership quota, was the Ulster American Legion Post.

Wilsey Wins Again

Winners in the St. Mary of the Snow CYO checker tournament held Sunday in the school cafeteria were announced by Mary Collins, program chairman. They were: grade five, Clark Hackett; grade six, Thomas Wilsey; grade seven, Geraldine Collins; grade eight, Debbie Murphy. The tournament champion for the second year in a row was Thomas Wilsey.

Assisting Mrs. Collins were Fay Washburn, Dorothy Casal, Helen Kramer, Bobbie DiDomenico, Pearl Christiana and Marge Tynan. The timekeeper was Edward M. Flanagan.

Resume Talks Today

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Negotiators at Westinghouse Electric Corp. plants scattered across the country resume talks today in an effort to bring about 7,000 striking International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers (IBEW) members back to work. Work stoppages have occurred at various plants since Oct. 31 when the IBEW national contract and some local contracts expired.

The union represents about 14,000 employees at 46 plants. Only 800 at 22 repair shops were covered by a national contract agreement reached in Washington Friday.

Westinghouse said agreements similar to the national pact have been submitted to local unions, but various issues are holding up settlements.

Today's Business Mirror

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—His wallet a bit thin because of the money he's spending in Vietnam, Uncle Sam is about to approach you regarding a small loan—a couple of billion dollars perhaps.

In doing so, he may provoke a scran with others who also are after your money. Already some short fuses are sputtering.

Everyone, Uncle Sam especially, knows you have the money. The problem is how to pry it away from you, and the answer is by offering high interest rates. But high interest is a nasty phase we thought was behind us.

One reason we thought so was that Uncle Sam in September clamped a lid on the rates that savings institutions could offer. It helped cool a rate war. Will he reopen it now? That's the question — and it's Uncle Sam's move.

His plan is to offer purchasers of Series E Savings Bonds, which return 4.15 per cent interest, the opportunity to also purchase savings certificates at an even higher interest rate.

Commercial banks, savings and loan associations, mutual savings banks and credit unions are, in that order, the chief competitors for this type of money.

On the sidelines, but still vitally interested, are most other financial institutions as well as the stock and bond markets. The first to be heard from undoubtedly will be the savings and loan associations. For them, it has been a very rough year. Once they offered some of the best rates available. But rates soared everywhere this year.

Need Steady Inflow

One aspect of this economic boom was a tremendous demand for money. It surprised even the Federal Reserve's top bankers. Consequently, the price for it soared also. Soon banks offered more than savings associations. These associations need a steady inflow of money in order to reinvest it at a higher rate. The savings associations were caught from both directions. Housing was in a slump — although tight money might have helped cause this — and that was their main outlet. And high interest rates elsewhere denied them the money they needed to work with.

In September, Uncle Sam offered some relief by putting a lid on rates. The savings associations came off well, or at least in a better position than they had been in. Their rates were pegged near the top.

Commercial banks, for example, can give only 4 per cent interest on passbook savings. The savings associations, however, can give 4 1/2 per cent. And on savings certificates they can offer 5 1/4 per cent.

This, said the Federal Home Loan Bank Board, which supervises the associations, would help "stabilize the situation — prevent any further bleeding."

The savings associations now feel that blood might be spilled — that Uncle Sam might offer so attractive a rate to lenders that the associations will be right back where they were.

Sedita Asks Return Of His Commissioner

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—Mayor Frank A. Sedita has asked his streets sanitation commissioner, whom the state sought to remove from office, to return to work today.

Commissioner Carl A. Perla Sr. had been placed on a leave of absence, at his own request, following his refusal earlier in the year to sign a waiver of immunity from prosecution and testify before an Erie County Grand Jury.

Sedita said he asked Perla to return to his $15,000-a-year job in view of the fact that the state suit seeking his removal has been dismissed and the grand jury that hoped for his testimony has been discharged without handing down any indictments.

Children Reveal Asthma Secrets While Sleeping

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Sleeping children are telling secrets about asthma — a tragic and sometimes deadly disease that grips five million Americans.

Machines record the pulse, breathing, heart beat and brain waves of these youngsters in slumber — and it also records the very movement of their eyes to show when they are dreaming.

Look for Patterns

Researchers here are looking for patterns that develop before an asthma attack — a constriction of breathing passages that makes the victim feel like he is suffocating. A severe attack can bring death.

Dr. William W. Hahn is conducting the study at the Children's Asthma Research Institute and Hospital. The hospital offers treatment to youngsters 6 to 15 from the United States and abroad.

Admission is based on the severity of the case and is limited to children who get no relief from conventional treatment.

Dr. Hahn has completed a study based on tests of waking children which shows that asthmatics have different heart beat and breathing rates than healthy youngsters.

"What I'm interested in is what in the nervous system is responsible for triggering this asthma attack," said Dr. Hahn.

He explained that the heart rate and similar body functions are controlled by the autonomic nervous system, composed of two branches which work in opposition to each other.

One speeds up the heart, the other slows it down. Normally, said Dr. Hahn, they achieve a balance or harmony. But he believes in asthmatics the balance is disturbed.

Doctors believe that emotional problems can cause asthma, as well as physical factors such as allergies.

Probe Emotional Stress

Dr. Hahn is hopeful that the study will show whether emotional stress can trigger an asthma attack. His machines can measure psychological reaction by tracing the brain wave pattern, he said.

He also wants to determine in which of the four stages of sleep asthma attacks occur. Stage one, in which a person dreams, is the stage of lightest sleep. The deepest sleep is in stage four.

Rapid eye movements recorded by the machine show when a child is dreaming, said Dr. Hahn. Everyone dreams, he said, although some don't remember their dreams when they awaken.

Reveal Diabetes In Children Is Usually Severe

Although diabetes is much less common among children than it is among the middle and older age groups, it can prove fatal to youngsters unless it is brought under prompt medical control, according to Robert E. Begley, chairman, Ulster Chapter, New York Diabetes Association.

There is no cure yet for typical diabetes. However, with early detection and proper medical care, children with the condition almost always can continue to lead active and happy lives, according to Begley.

Reaction Important

Having diabetes is no real barrier to an otherwise normal childhood and adolescence, provided the boy or girl has a clear understanding of what is involved in the treatment, and learns to live with it, Begley said. This means following a careful diet, exercising properly, and usually taking insulin and in some cases other medication.

"The reaction of some adults to a child's having diabetes can affect a youngster's mental outlook and emotional health," Begley warned. "Too much obvious sympathy, for example, can make a child feel sorry for himself or lead him to suppose that he never can be like other boys and girls. This over-protection can make it difficult for him to accept his condition and achieve good control."

Both the diabetic child and his parents need to face the issue squarely, Begley added. "With modern treatment, the child can live an active and healthful life, and grow up to follow almost any career to which he or she is suited."

Test Centers Open

Although children develop diabetes quickly and in severe forms, according to Begley, the condition can occasionally exist, even in the young, without the parents being aware of it. It is extremely important, therefore, to test children for it, he added.

Special Free Testing Centers have been established during Diabetes Week to make it convenient for anybody who wants to be tested. Clinics will be held at Kingston Hospital today from 7 to 9 p. m.; at Benedictine Hospital Nov. 17, 18 and 19 from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p. m., and at New Paltz Medical Center on Saturday, Nov. 19, from 2 to 4 p. m.

Red Paper Concedes Many Gemini Gains

MOSCOW (AP) — A Soviet newspaper today said the Gemini 12 space flight repeated previous programs but conceded that many of the scientific experiments are of great interest for the further development of cosmonautics.

Trud, the Soviet labor paper, made the first comment here on Gemini 12. The Soviet press carried brief, factual stories while it was in flight.

Soviet Sums Up Americans: Not Devils, Angels

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — "You have your native failings and insufficiencies," a visiting Soviet poet said Tuesday night when asked his opinion of Americans.

Yevgeny Yevtushenko, on a six-week tour of the United States, answered questions following a reading of his poems at the State University at Buffalo.

"I knew you were not devils, but I knew you were not angels either," the 33-year-old Russian told an audience of about 400 persons.

Note Recruitment Drive for Job Corps

New York State Labor Department's Division of Employment is conducting an intensive recruitment drive for unemployed men, 16 through 21 years of age, to join the Job Corps.

In making this announcement today, Anthony C. Hart, employment security manager, pointed out that Job Corps offers basic education, skill training and useful work experience for youth who need a change of environment and individual help to develop self-confidence and a willingness to help themselves.

Hart said that young men who are out of work and out of school should apply in person at 16 Pine Grove Avenue.

Young men accepted by the Job Corps are sent to rural camps or urban centers near large cities located throughout the country, usually within three weeks from the time their applications are accepted.

U.S. Training Thai Officers As Copter Pilots

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is training a number of officers from Thailand as helicopter pilots who can return home to teach Thai servicemen how to operate choppers against Communist forces.

Secretary of defense Robert S. McNamara recently rejected a suggestion by U. S. Ambassador Graham A. Martin to send American helicopter companies to Thailand to contain any possible insurrection.

Communists in the northeastern corner of the country have long been a problem to Thailand, an ally of the United States in its Southeast Asian operations. Instead of committing Americans to what officials now consider a relatively small but nevertheless menacing problem in Thailand, the United States is helping the Thai government lay the foundations for a helicopter corps of its own.

Chicago Trib Backs AP in Libel Case

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Tribune intervened Tuesday before the U. S. Supreme Court in support of an appeal by The Associated Press from a libel verdict won by former Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker.

The AP is appealing a $500,000 verdict awarded by a jury in Fort Worth, Tex., to Walker who said he was libeled by reports of his activities during riots at the University of Mississippi in 1962. The Chicago Tribune intervened as a friend of the court.

W.D. Maxwell, editor of the Tribune, said the Tribune is appearing in support of The AP because it regards the attempt by Walker to collect damages for the on-the-spot news report of the Mississippi riots as a grave threat to freedom of the press.

Debt Down in Mass.

BOSTON (AP) — Treasurer Robert Q. Crane says Massachusetts has reduced its state debt to $989,146,000 compared with $1,025,577,000 on Nov. 1, 1965.

Lynda Fast, Eager With Typewriter

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lynda Bird Johnson, career girl with a chauffeur, may turn out to be one of the speediest magazine writers on the circuit.

In her third full week with McCall's magazine, she is said to have completed one story and is researching a second. Lynda is taking the typewriter seriously and coworkers say she is fast and eager.

The 22-year-old elder daughter of President and Mrs. Johnson started her part-time "around $10,000" a year job with a two-week internship in the New York office.

Top Political Names Revealed In Transcripts

WASHINGTON (AP) — The names of Lyndon B. Johnson and several top political figures pop up in transcripts released by the government of "bugged" conversations involving Bobby Baker.

But the government says the role of Baker, onetime Senate Democratic secretary, in the conversations was only coincidence and that the eavesdropping had nothing to do with his indictment for tax evasion, grand larceny and fraud.

Covered All

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said in an affidavit presented to federal court Tuesday that the 34-page transcript covered all the Baker conversations on which the FBI eavesdropped. But Baker said there must have been more.

The transcript was released at a U. S. District Court hearing on whether the conversations should be suppressed because of Baker's claim they can be used against him.

The hearing continues today. The 11 conversations in the transcript were monitored from three points: Miami, Fla.; Las Vegas, Nev., and the Washington hotel room of Fred B. Black Jr., a former Baker business associate.

The Justice Department said the telephone taps were part of an investigation into organized crime.

The calls from Black's suite were recorded between February and April 1963. Baker said he might have made 500 calls from Black's suite during that period.

Claims No Other

He said some conversations there involved Wayne Bromley, a key figure in Baker's indictment for evading $23,090 in federal income taxes and obtaining $100,000 by fraud. But the government insisted it had no other records of Baker conversations.

One conversation was between Baker and Dean McGee of the Kerr-McGee Oil Co. in Oklahoma City following the death of Sen. Robert Kerr, D-Okl.

"Well, Lyndon (then vice president) told me the other day," Baker is quoted in the transcript, "that (Rep.) Carl Albert (D-Okl.) told him they did not think Bob (Kerr) Jr. could win that seat."

"They want you (McGee) to take it. I told them that was out."

Utica Woman Killed In Georgia Accident

JESUP, Ga. (AP) — Mrs. Alfred L. Grant, 64, of Utica, died Tuesday of injuries suffered Monday when a portion of a spring on a truck smashed through the windshield of her automobile.

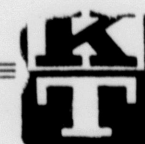

Police said the Grants were traveling to Florida in separate cars when the accident occurred.

Grant, who was traveling behind his wife's car, described the truck-trailer to police, who set up roadblocks in an unsuccessful attempt to find the truck involved.

Food Sales to Rise

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — Edmund H. Fallon, executive vice president of Agway, Inc., a farm cooperative, told the New York Farm Bureau meeting that greater demands for food in America and abroad will bring higher incomes to U.S. farmers.

Its new look is just one nice thing about the '67 Chevy pickup

'67 Fleetside Pickup

THERE ARE LOTS OF OTHERS.

For instance, new durability: New sheet metal construction discourages rust. Eliminates exposed joints on cargo box and tailgate. Provides self-washing wheelhousings with special splash shields. Inner cab is specially treated against rust.

Also, added comfort, safety and convenience: Improved visibility all around. Dual master cylinder brake system. Telescoping lower steering shaft. Energy-absorbing instrument panel. Interior color-keyed to go with exterior paint. One-hand tailgate latch.

And extra strength: Full-depth double-wall side panels (Fleetside models). Double-wall steel in cab roof and other important areas.

Plus famous Chevrolet truck features: Independent Front Suspension that gives a smooth ride—like a car. The most popular truck 6's and V8's. (And there are lots more, as your Chevrolet dealer will show you.)

Talks Break Off In Performers, Networks Rift

NEW YORK (AP) — Negotiators for the broadcasting networks and two unions representing 36,000 performers, newsmen and announcers broke off talks early today after a 16-hour session that extended beyond a Tuesday midnight deadline for a threatened strike. The strike was not called immediately. Kenneth Groot, executive secretary of the New York local of the American Federation of Television and Radio Artists — AFTRA, said after the talks were suspended at 4:15 a.m. that no further meetings had been scheduled. He said a group of AFTRA executives were meeting to decide whether to strike. Groot declined to say whether a strike was likely or when it might be called. There was no immediate word on the progress of the talks. The unions are seeking higher fees and minimum salaries for their members. Industry negotiators declined. Network sources in New York indicated that a walkout by the AFTRA and the Screen Actors Guild would curtail live programming. They said, however, that filmed and taped shows would allow the networks to stay on the air indefinitely. Employees of independent radio and television stations would not be affected by a strike. One network spokesman said, "The major casualty would be the soap operas."

Clash With Reds

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — Government units clashed with Communist terrorists in northern Thailand, captured 14 of them and inflicted heavy casualties on the others, Bangkok press reports said today. Eight government soldiers were wounded, the reports said. Deputy Premier Praphas Charusathien said two of the captured terrorists are believed to be North Vietnamese who infiltrated into Thailand.

Forecast Is Given Through Nov. 21

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Extended forecasts for Upstate New York, as prepared by the U.S. Weather Bureau, from Thursday through Monday: Temperatures are expected to moderate slowly to seasonable next week. Precipitation will be light, generally averaging one to three-tenths of an inch. Light snow or rain is expected in the north and rain in the south over the weekend. Daytime highs will be mainly in the 40s in the north and west and in the low 50s in the south-east. Nighttime lows will be in the mid 20s to low 30s.

World News In Brief

Malta May Offer Base

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Boris De Gaulle of Malta may offer his island's dockyard facilities to the U.S. 6th Fleet if cuts in British military spending force the British navy to curtail its use of the base. Britain, which has used the Mediterranean island's facilities for the past 150 years, has warned Malta that cuts in overseas defense spending may result in a 50 per cent reduction at the Malta base. The U.S. 6th Fleet, which patrols the Mediterranean area, has been using ports in southern France.

Faces War Trial

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — Dr. Horst Schumann, a refugee in Ghana for seven years, returned today to stand trial for the wartime killing of 30,000 Jews and non-Germans. Schumann took refuge in Ghana in 1939 and worked in a clinic there until the overthrow of President Kwame Nkrumah. He was arrested by the new Ghanaian government and the West German government requested his extradition was granted on Nov. 4.

Fear Evil Grouping

COLOMBO, Ceylon (AP) — Superstition and rain drove more villagers from their homes today in central Ceylon's tea-growing Haputale district where landslides have killed at least 11 persons. As the rain continued, many villagers quit the valleys below the tea plantations. They believed an evil grouping of the planets would occur today or Thursday and bring more disaster.

Astros Arrive . . .

conference in Houston. Lovell, 38, and champion space-walker, Aldrin, 36, brought the Gemini program to a triumphant end Tuesday when their space chariot splashed into the Sargasso Sea area of the Atlantic Ocean, about 700 miles southeast of Cape Kennedy. The landing was another example of the precision America has reached in its man-in-space programs. For the fourth straight time, a Gemini craft landed close enough to its recovery ship for the descent and splashdown to be relayed live by television to U.S. homes.

Red Carpet Jaunt

A helicopter put the spacemen on the deck of the aircraft carrier Wasp 30 minutes later and they strode jauntily across a red carpet, acknowledging the cheers of hundreds of sailors.

Stepping to a microphone, command pilot Lovell said: "We're both happy to end the Gemini program with a success. I hope we can continue to do as well in the space program."

Aldrin added: "We tried real hard to please everybody. I hope we've come half-way there."

Then they went below decks for extensive physical examinations, which they passed easily. "They are in excellent condition and are in extremely good spirits," reported NASA physician Dr. Kenneth Beers. "There are no apparent problems."

Later, Aldrin said that walking in space was "a lot more than I expected it to be."

Record Space Walk

During the four-day flight he made three excursions outside Gemini 12 — a record 2-hour, 9-minute space walk and 27 minutes during which he thrust the upper part of his body through an open hatch to perform photographic and other experiments.

The feat earned Aldrin a promotion to lieutenant colonel, approved by President Johnson soon after the landing. Lovell had been promoted after an earlier Gemini mission.

The space walk proved that man, with proper pacing and equipment, can do constructive jobs outside an orbiting vehicle. He will be questioned closely about his excursions in the debriefings.

Space officials had considerable praise for the Gemini program which successfully accomplished its goal as a bridge to the moon, proving out all techniques required to move into the Apollo program.

Cite Great Legacy

Gemini, which sent 20 men into space in 20 months, "has given us a great legacy to the space program," said Dr. Robert R. Gilruth, director of the Manned Spacecraft Center. NASA officials conceded that the Apollo program has some problems, but that they expect to land men on the moon by 1970. The present timetable calls for two astronauts to step on the surface in 1968. The first three-man earth-orbit flight in the Apollo program had been scheduled this month, but slipped to January or February because of problems with the spacecraft life support and fuel tank systems.

Favor WE Pact

NEW YORK (AP) — A ratification vote among 22,000 Western Electric Company installers ran heavily for acceptance of a proposed new contract in complete returns today.

O'Donnell Named Lindsay Press Aide

NEW YORK (AP) — Mayor John V. Lindsay today named Harry J. O'Donnell, top New York State public relations man for the Republican party, as his press secretary, succeeding Woody Klein.

Lindsay said Klein, who has served as his press secretary since Dec. 1, 1963, has been named to the newly-created post of assistant to the mayor for housing and urban development. O'Donnell, 32, expects to take over his new duties early next month, Lindsay said. Lindsay made the announcement at a news conference in City Hall.

Jury Gets Sheppard Case

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Samuel H. Sheppard's second-degree murder case went to a jury of seven men and five women at 10:30 a.m. today, mid-way in the fourth week of his retrial.

Common Pleas Judge Francis J. Talty gave the panel a choice of three verdicts in its judgment of Sheppard in the July 4, 1954, bludgeoning slaying of his first wife, Marilyn. The choices were: guilty of second-degree murder, for which the sentence is life; first-degree manslaughter, carrying a sentence of one to 20 years; or acquittal.

Sheppard, 42, is charged in the indictment with "unlawfully and maliciously" killing his wife.

Note Extensive Fire Damage to Creek Locks Home

Fire caused extensive damage late Tuesday night to the one-story residence of Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Winder near Creek Locks, Town of Rosendale.

Rosendale firemen were dispatched to the scene at about 11:24 p.m. yesterday and later Bloomington firefighters in command of Chief Herbert Faurote answered a call as the fire was in that company's district.

Winder told The Freeman today that fire damaged the kitchen and burned up through to the attic, mushrooming out along rafters. Winder said he was at work in Kerhonkson at the time the fire broke out and his wife was at the home of neighbors. Considerable smoke and water damage also was reported by Winder.

Firemen checked back in service at 3:15 a.m., according to a dispatcher at mutual aid headquarters. The origin of the blaze was not immediately determined.

Gales Slam Britain

LONDON (AP) — Gales hit Britain today for the second day in succession, ripping roofs and causing widespread delays to trains and shipping.

More than two dozen vessels sheltered from high seas off Deal, southern England. Channel ferry services to the Continent were canceled.

A London weather center spokesman said there was a chance of more freak storms, like the 100-mile whirlwind Tuesday which toppled a bell-tower through the roof of a school at Leicester injuring 21 children.

Johnson Quizzes

or other means and a very thin slice of it placed on a glass slide for examination under a powerful microscope to determine whether there are any cancerous cells in the tissue.

Movers said the examination showed that the tissue examined was "benign." He added that in the words of Dr. James Cain of the Mayo Clinic, one of the President's team of surgeons, it was "clear-cut benign."

Plan Further Tests

Movers added that a further examination of polyp tissue, employing another process in which the tissue is "fixed" in certain test materials, will be carried out.

But he added that doctors are confident from the original examination that the polyp removed is benign.

He said that the pathologists who had performed the examination of the tissue — conducted in a room close by the operating room — were Dr. Lou Wolner of the Mayo Clinic and Dr. James Hume of Bethesda.

The latter doctor is one of the pathologists who participated in the post-mortem examination of President John F. Kennedy.

As regards how the hernia was repaired, Movers said Dr. George Hollenbeck, chief surgeon in this part of the operation, had said the defect in the abdominal muscle wall and overlying tissues was about a half inch in diameter.

It was an aftermath of Johnson's earlier gall bladder operation, a failure of proper healing at the point where drainage tubes had been inserted.

It was through this break in the muscle wall and overlying tissue that a part of the President's viscera — possibly a small section of the colon — protruded and formed a golf ball-sized lump on the President's abdomen.

Defect Is Closed

Movers said Hollenbeck told him the "defect was closed with stitches that pulled the edges of the muscle and its sheath together."

In response to a question as to whether the doctors had instructed Johnson to perform any exercises during or after his hospitalization to strengthen his repaired muscular wall and minimize the possibilities of recurrence of the hernia, Movers said the doctors reported to the President had not been given any instructions "at this time."

Movers said that during the operation the President's heart had been monitored with an electrocardiography machine — presumably because of his history of a major heart attack in 1955.

As to what anesthetic was used, Movers said a general anesthesia system was used — that is, substances designed to put the patient "asleep."

Given Lesser Amount

Movers said Johnson was given a much lesser amount of anesthetics than he was given for his gall bladder and kidney stone operation more than a year ago — an operation that took 2 hours and 15 minutes.

He said the lesser amount of anesthetics given this time apparently accounted for the President's "rather quick response."

Movers said that while at the time the press secretary spoke the President was communicating with his doctors and staff by means of pencil and pad, he "will be able to use his voice (later) today."

However, he will not be allowed to make any formal speeches for about four to five weeks and apparently in the meantime will be instructed to use his voice as sparingly as possible.

Will Have Discomfort

Movers said Johnson will suffer some discomfort for about three or four weeks resulting from swollen tissue at the site of the polyp removal in his throat.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, under a standing agreement with Johnson, had been empowered to make any necessary presidential decisions during the time Johnson was under anesthesia — a period of barely 90 minutes.

Movers said that, as it turned out, no action by Humphrey was required.

Mrs. Johnson was with the President early this morning before the operation, having remained in the hospital overnight.

Immediately after the operation ended, Dr. Cain went to her room in the presidential suite to inform the First Lady that the operation had been successful.

Staying Several Days

At Mrs. Johnson's suggestion, daughters Lynda and Luci had remained at the White House during the operation and Mrs. Johnson telephoned them with the good news afterwards. The girls were expected to visit their father later today, Movers said.

Movers said Johnson is expected to remain in the hospital "several days." Asked about the possibility of a recurrence of the throat polyp, Movers said Dr. Gould had reported it was "possible, but unlikely."

Child Health Clinic

A Child Health Clinic, conducted by the Ulster County Health Department, will be held at the Tumor Clinic Building, 400 Broadway on Tuesday, 9:30 to 10:30 a.m. These clinics are limited to infant and pre-school children for the purpose of improving child health through early recognition of defects, advice regarding nutrition, instruction of parents in understanding of growth and development, handling of minor behavior difficulties and the administering of immunizations for smallpox, diphtheria, tetanus, whooping cough and polio.

UAW Starting Early For '67 Pact Talks

DETROIT (AP) — Walter P. Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers is setting the machinery in motion unusually early for hard-nosed contract bargaining next year.

The 26-member UAW International Executive Board is holding a week-long session in Detroit, more than seven months before new contract bargaining begins with the automakers. A board member said Tuesday, "there is free-wheeling discussion on all phases of negotiations." Another source said the board also was "rehashing what happened in the last election and how we can live with the new Congress."

Jury Finds Two Men Guilty of Grand Larceny

Charles Eastment, 26, of 127 Congress Street, Brooklyn, and James LaBeause, 17, of Kings- ton, were found guilty of first-degree grand larceny by a jury Tuesday afternoon following a trial before County Judge Raymond J. Mino and a jury.

Sentence will be pronounced on Nov. 30, at 10 a.m. The two were also indicted on charges of third degree burglary, unlawful entry and criminal receiving, concealing and withholding stolen property as a felony. They were arrested by Kingston police officers following the theft of a quantity of shirts from the Kingston Shirt Company plant on Pine Grove Avenue last May 24. On motion of attorneys Norman Keller for Eastment and Edward Greene for LaBeause, the burglary, unlawful entry and receiving, concealing and withholding stolen property charges were dismissed. The only charge submitted to the jury was the first degree grand larceny charge of which they were found guilty.

Assistant District Attorney James H. Fisher appeared for the prosecution.

Social Agencies Group Hears of Multi-Media Aid

The program of the Multi-Media Center here was outlined by the guest speaker following a luncheon meeting Tuesday of Ulster County Council of Social Agencies at Kingston YWCA.

The guest speaker introduced by the Program Chairman Robert Johnson was Mrs. Frieda Dingee, director of the Multi-Media Center in Kingston. This center was established as a result of federal funds available to Kingston. This center serves those schools situated in the culturally disadvantaged area as determined by percentage of children receiving welfare funds of some sort.

The area schools are: Sophia Finn, J. P. Kennedy, No. 8, St. Mary's, St. Peter's, Immanuel Lutheran, Immaculate Conception, Myron J. Michael and Kingston High School. Some of the Dingee explained that the purpose of the center is to try to find the cause or causes for a child's inability to read to his full intellectual potential. Slides were shown on the activities of the center.

Mrs. Dingee also explained that many different methods are used to help stimulate a child's interest and free him from a feeling of embarrassment. Some of the equipment available to the teachers are, movie projector, tape recorder, film strips, record player and overhead projector. The Spectrum and American Book Kits which have a wealth of material to interest children and develop skills, and the Webster Classroom Kit and MacMillan Spectrum furnish exercises for developing vocabulary, word discrimination, word analysis and reading comprehension.

Various groups have already visited the center to become more informed on the work of the center. There are only a few of these centers in New York State.

Mrs. Dingee answered many questions following her talk. Slides were shown by Richard Scott.

President Louis H. Schafer presided for the business session. He announced that Mrs. Elizabeth Overbagh and her committee will continue to work with the Rev. Patrick J. Carney on the county-wide Homemaker Service for Ulster County. This service will be under the direction of Father Carney, director of Catholic Charities of Ulster and Dutchess Counties.

Schafer also announced that the council will again be in charge of clearing all food baskets given to needy families this Christmas, making sure that no duplicates are given, also making sure that every family will be taken care of. Charles Ryan of Kingston Recreation Department will be the chairman of this committee.

The Civil War was the last war in which generals personally led their troops into action.

Recap Lively Film Career Of Jack L. Warner, Tycoon

EDITOR'S NOTE — They call him "The Last Tycoon," and the description is apt. For Jack L. Warner is the sole survivor of the moguls who once practiced one-man rule in the studios of Hollywood. He is renowned as a teller of bad jokes, a hard-headed executive, a battler with actors, Bob Thomas, Associated Press columnist, recaps Warner's lively career in three stories starting today.

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The audience at the glittering premiere of the San Francisco

Film Festival had never seen anything quite like it. Jack L. Warner had been called to the stage to be honored for his contribution to the art of the cinema. George Dusek of the San Francisco Examiner reported the performance:

Read Last Page

"Warner read the last page of his speech first, accepted the Golden Gate statuette before it was presented to him and denounced communism for several minutes while (emcee Peter) Ustinov wrung his hands like Zasu Pitts."

After rambling ribaldly on other subjects "aware of the hoots and insults coming from the audience, he peered out into the auditorium and said, "Somebody is giving me the goose." On the following day, the Festival presented a retrospective program of the achievements of the film maker during his 48-year tenure as head of production for Warner Brothers. Critics marveled at the panorama of distinctive films and personalities.

Marvel at Panorama

John Barrymore in the silent "Don Juan." Al Jolson in "The Jazz Singer," speaking the first words heard in a feature movie. Edward G. Robinson, James Cagney, Humphrey Bogart as the snarling symbols of the gangster era. Busby Berkeley's geometric fantasies in the Dick Powell-Ruby Keeler musicals. Bette Davis at her dramatic heights, the young John Garfield in "Four Daughters," Paul Muni as Zola, Bogie in "Casablanca" and "Sierra Madre," Brando as Stanley Kowalski, Gary Cooper as Sergeant York, Cagney as George M. Cohan, etc., etc.

San Franciscans learned last month what Hollywood was known for decades: that Warner's films speak better for him than he does. He and his brothers started producing movies in St. Louis back in 1912. The four boys were sons of Polish immigrants, and they started in the film business in New Castle, Pa., with a converted store they called the Bijou.

Down through the empire-building years, Jack always operated the studio while his other brothers took care of business matters in New York. Now Harry, Albert and Sam are dead, and Jack rules Warner Brothers as president and production chief.

Vigorous 74

A vigorous 74, he is often termed "The Last Tycoon." From his desk in the administration building of the Burbank Studio, Jack Warner continues to dictate the fortunes of a corporation that last week reported an annual gross of $97 million and a profit of $4,663,000 in the fiscal year ending August 1965.

And now he has agreed in principle to sell his interest in the company to Seven Arts Productions, Ltd., a distributor of films for television, for an estimated $32 million in cash.

A born gambler, he risked $5.5 million to buy "My Fair Lady" and sank $17 million in its filming. He paid Elizabeth Taylor and Richard Burton a million dollars each to star in "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?" and allowed it to be filmed with bawdier language than film audiences had ever heard before. Both gambles appear to have paid off.

Now Warner is spending $10 million or more on another Lerner-Loewe musical, "Camelot," without a box-office "draw" in the cast.

He oversees such projects with cool-headed showmanship and remarkable taste, yet Hollywood knows him from his public speeches as a buffoon. The real Jack Warner? He remains unseen.

Red Cross Steps Up Assistance to GI's in Viet Nam

With the increase in military strength and the military buildup in Viet Nam the work of the American Red Cross chapters throughout the United States has increased many times since the chapters are a vital link between the families of service personnel and the servicemen who are serving away from home.

During the month of October, the Ulster County Chapter, ARC, under their Service to Military Families Program, served 90 different requests for assistance ranging from advising families of newly inducted servicemen of the programs, that Red Cross has to offer, through verifications of emergencies for military authorities, to financial assistance during a period when a servicemen's family allotment was delayed.

Serving as a link between the chapter and the family at home and the servicemen in Southeast Asia, as well as in the rest of the world where American GIs are stationed, are other Red Cross career and volunteer staff. The American Red Cross annually assists one of four U.S.

servicemen in the United States, South Viet Nam, and 30 other foreign countries. Red Cross messages to and from South Viet Nam in behalf of U.S. servicemen average over 370 a day. Currently 233 Red Cross workers are serving U.S. troops at 45 locations in South Viet Nam in 45 different locations and the number of workers is expected to exceed 250 by December 31.

At the same time 14 Red Cross workers are serving U.S. troops in Thailand.

Since the work of the Red Cross is supported entirely by voluntary contributions to the Red Cross fund drive and the Community Chest, residents of Ulster County Community Chest area are urged to be generous with their contributions to the present drive.

Suggests Others Eat as Diabetics

Many of us could improve our own eating habits by learning more about the diet prescribed for diabetics, according to Dr. Norman Burg, medical advisor of the Ulster Chapter, New York Diabetes Association, during the 1966 Diabetes Week campaign, November 13 through 19 in Kingston. People with diabetes need a healthful amount of exercise hence their diets must supply ample energy, Dr. Burg explained, adding that this seems a sensible health rule for most people.

"Diabetics are advised to avoid becoming overweight and to try to maintain a weight which is normal for their height and age," the physician continued. "Again this health rule seems to apply to most other people who care about their well being."

"Of course diabetics do limit their intake of sugars, and starches because these are converted into glucose in the body and the diabetic has a limited supply of insulin to help his body cells store glucose or convert it into energy," Dr. Burg said. "But then a lot of people are cutting down on sweets to lose weight or for other health reasons."

"But there is one thing dieters of all sorts can learn from people with diabetes. That is the fact that a diet need not mean monotony. The well instructed diabetic has that problem solved."

"One solution was worked out several years ago by the American Diabetes Association, together with the American Dietetic Association and the U. S. Public Health Service. It is a system of 'food exchanges' which many people with diabetes use. The system enables you to exchange given quantities of one food for another food of the same general type. This system makes it possible to enjoy a great variety of foods within the diet plan, yet the overall total of calories and the prescribed proportion of carbohydrates, fat and protein remain the same."

"These days diabetics not only eat nourishing meals, but can also enjoy an interesting variety of foods."

Special Free Testing Centers during Diabetes Week are as follows: Kingston Hospital today and Nov. 16 from 2 to 4 p. m. and 7 to 9 p. m.; Benedictine Hospital on Nov. 17, 18 and 19 from 2 to 4 p. m. and from 7 to 9 p. m.; and at the New Paltz Medical Center Saturday, Nov. 19 from 2 to 4 p. m.

Cancer Warning Signals

Warning Signal No. 6 Indigestion or Difficulty in Swallowing

All of us are troubled occasionally with indigestion. The complaint may arise from functional disturbances related to unwise eating and drinking or to upset emotion. Indigestion can also be a symptom of benign organic conditions like peptic ulcer, gall bladder disease, gastro-intestinal "virus."

Indigestion is a warning signal, too, of cancer, especially cancer of the stomach. Therefore continuing indigestion or repeated episodes of indigestion should be reason to consult a physician without delay. The digestive discomfort ought not to be self-diagnosed as "acid indigestion," "sour stomach," "nervous stomach," "that old ulcer or gall bladder." Time ought not to be lost in self-treatment by diet, antacids, pills and powders.

Men Top Target

Cancer of the stomach occurs most frequently in persons past 40 years of age. It attacks men twice as often as women. For some unknown reason the rate of cancer of stomach in the United States has been decreasing in recent years. In 1965, though, there were 18,000 deaths estimated from the disease. The greatest problem in cancer of the stomach comes in detecting the condition when it is still localized in the stomach. At this stage medical surgery offers a curability rate of 40 per cent, but the overall percentage of persons, living at least five years after diagnosis and treatment of stomach cancer and free of the disease, is less than five per cent. Why is cancer of the stomach not diagnosis in an early stage in more people? Because in early stage, cancer of the stomach not diagnosed painless. It may be silent for a considerable period of time. Symptoms are slight, and not incapacitating. A person learns to live and work with them. He may wait months after symptoms appear before he goes to a physician.

The term indigestion covers a number of different complaints—a vague uneasiness after eating; distaste for certain food, particularly meat; slight difficulty in swallowing; tasting of sour liquid or undigested food after meals; feeling of fullness or bloating; loss of normal appetite; excessive belching, nausea and pain like that of peptic ulcer or gall bladder disease that does not clear up with or without treatment. Cancer of the stomach can also produce anemia, black stools, weakness.

In investigating the complaint of "indigestion" the physician may use blood counts, stool tests, X-ray studies, gastroscopy.

Difficulty in Swallowing

Difficulty in swallowing may be a warning signal in certain types of cancer of the stomach, but more often it warns specifically against cancer of the esophagus or gullet. Non-cancerous conditions of the esophagus induce difficulty in swallowing too. Only medical investigation can differentiate between the causes of the complaint.

Cancer of the esophagus is not a frequent type of cancer. Men outnumber women about 9 to 1. The peak occurrence is in the age after 59 years. The average results for cancer in the esophagus from treatment are not encouraging, chiefly because the cancer is not often detected in a localized stage. Persons with cancer of the esophagus usually do not seek medical attention for difficulty in swallowing until months have gone by when the cancer has had an opportunity to grow to advanced stage. At first the difficulty in swallowing is just a slight discomfort. It gets worse so slowly and gradually, without definite pain, that the person adapts to the complaint by altering the type of his food-intake. To determine the cause of difficulty in swallowing, whether it is cancer or one of several non-cancerous conditions, the physician may employ special X-ray studies, esophagoscopy, biopsy.

Remember: Indigestion, while a symptom of various benign conditions, is a warning signal for cancer of the stomach. Any man or woman, especially if over 40 years of age, who develops indigestion for the first time or who, with a history of previous chronic stomach trouble, develops a new, different kind of indigestion, which lasts, even though with some improvement, over two weeks, ought to let a physician determine the cause of the indigestion. More lives than now might be saved from cancer of the stomach if the condition were diagnosed more frequently in an early localized stage by reduction in the delay of a person's seeking medical attention after onset of indigestion.

NEXT: Warning Signal No. 7: Change in a Wart or Mole.

Too Near the Real Thing

MEMPHIS (AP)—"Jet Near Beer," said William Morris, is too near the real stuff. Morris ordered the product, advertised as a nonalcoholic brew, taken off the market after learning that it contained from .28 to .31 per cent alcohol. The real thing has a minimum of 3.2 per cent alcohol. "It wasn't selling too great, anyhow," a distributor lamented.

WEST SHOKAN NEWS

WEST SHOKAN — Mrs. Carl Rosengren is spending the winter with her daughter, Mrs. Gloria Kirkenbaum in Sherman, Tex.

Woodstock Movies, Clinic Set at School

Three events of importance to local parents and their children will be held at the Woodstock School during the coming week.

The first of a series of P-TA sponsored Saturday afternoon movies will take place at the school Saturday. The movie will be a matinee performance, arranged by Mrs. Joseph Keefe, and all pupils in the school may attend. Pre-schoolers are also welcome, if accompanied by an adult.

Also on this coming Saturday, the P-TA is sponsoring a Lazy Eye Clinic. This will be held throughout the morning in the nursing office of the school. Aim of the clinic is to discover amblyopia or "lazy eye blindness," an ailment that can be successfully treated if discovered early enough.

Even though local parents may feel their child has no obvious eye problem, it is recommended that boys and girls in the three, four and five-year-old age group be brought to the testing clinic.

Another meeting at the school shortly will be the regular monthly meeting of the Ontario Board of Education. This will be held Monday, Nov. 21, at 8 p. m. Program topic for the evening, in addition to regular Board business, will be, "Special Education for the Physically and Mentally Handicapped."

It has also been announced that the Woodstock School and all other schools in the Ontario Central District will be closed for the Thanksgiving holiday on Nov. 23, 24 and 25.

Planning Second Cemetery Tour Of Family Sites

The recent Historical Society of Woodstock conducted tour of several of Woodstock's main cemeteries proved so interesting that plans are being made for a similar outing shortly to visit some of the small family graveyards in the township.

Those who attended the first tour found much to intrigue them at the Zena Cemetery, the old section of the Woodstock Cemetery and the two small cemeteries across Rock City Road, the Evergreen and Artists cemeteries.

At Zena, it was difficult to make out the markings on the well-weathered gravestones, but some odd verses were legible. The group found that the old portion of this cemetery is in fairly good condition, buried here are such early Woodstock settlers as Wilhelmus Rowe and Barnet Lewis.

In the old section of Woodstock Cemetery, the discovery that the elm tree has disappeared at the famous "elm tree grave" of Catherine Van Deberg and her infant, has started a drive to replace the tree, once described by Robert Ripley in his "Believe It or Not" feature and written up in many folklore histories.

The group found the Evergreen Cemetery, containing many Ashokan removals, in bad condition with headstones down and underbrush and high grass everywhere. Town Historian Edgar Learycraft has suggested this site be put into better condition since it forms the entrance to the well-kept Artists Cemetery nearby and just over the hill.

Thanksgiving Service

The Thanksgiving service of First Church of Christ, Scientist, 85 Tinker Street, Woodstock, will be held Thursday, Nov. 24, at 11 a. m.

Sermon readings from the Bible and the Christian Science textbook will bring out the close relationship between prayer and Thanksgiving. A period will be set aside for testimonies of thanks from individuals in the congregation. Church soloist Mrs. Marilyn Havlin will sing A Song of Thanksgiving by Richard Wallbridge, accompanied on the organ by Mrs. June Munson.

The service will be conducted by the First Reader of the church, Mrs. Marie L. Klein, and by the Second Reader, Mrs. Ella R. Schwabe.

To Receive Members

The Sunday at Christ's Lutheran Church, Woodstock, the following persons will be received into membership: Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bennett; Mr. and Mrs. Sigismund Gollan; and Peter Gollan, all of Woodstock.

On Thanksgiving Eve, Nov. 23, at 7:30 p. m., a special service of worship will be held. On the following day, Dwayne Cordes, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. William Cordes of West Hurley, will be received into the church through the Sacrament of Holy Baptism. Dwayne's sponsors are Mr. and Mrs. Donald Lawson of Woodstock.

Christian Science

A sermon on "Soul and Body" will be presented at all Christian Science services this Sunday.

The Golden Text is from Psalms: "Who is God save the Lord? or who is a rock save our God? It is God that girdeth me with strength and maketh my way perfect."

A related reading from the denominational textbook, Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy, states:

"Consciousness constructs a better body when faith in matter has been conquered. Correct material belief by spiritual understanding, and Spirit will form you anew."

Sunday services in Woodstock are held at 11 a. m.

Sir William Henry Bragg and his son, William Lawrence Bragg, received the Nobel Prize in physics in 1915.

FDR Jr. Rejects O'Connor's Claim As Titular Head

NEW YORK (AP) — Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. says he will become a "strong voice" in the Democratic party and he rejects Frank D. O'Connor's claim to titular leadership of the state's Democrats.

The son of the late President says he is working on research for legislation that would provide the state's first direct primary for statewide offices.

"I'm going to work actively in the party to form a broad coalition of liberal and progressive forces to restore the dynamic image of the party," Roosevelt said Tuesday night in his first interview since his defeat Nov. 8 as the Liberal party candidate for governor.

O'Connor, the Democratic gubernatorial nominee who blamed Roosevelt for "spoiling" his chances of becoming governor, claimed titular leadership of the party the day after Republican Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller won a third term.

Production Resumes At Westinghouse Plant

HORSEHEADS, N.Y. (AP) — Production resumes today at the Westinghouse Electric Corp. plant here following a 13-day strike by 1,200 electrical workers.

The employees, members of Local 1833 of the AFL-CIO International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, voted Tuesday night, 18-17, to accept a new three-year contract.

Meanwhile, 600 employees at a Westinghouse plant in Bath, about 30 miles from this Elmira suburb, continue to strike. A union spokesman said a meeting Tuesday produced little progress.

The Horseheads contract calls for immediate increases of 11½ cents an hour for all workers, plus a boost of 1 to 10 cents an hour for skilled workers.

Three New York Democrats To Head Major House Groups

By ROBERT T. GRAY
AP REGIONAL SERVICE
WASHINGTON (AP) — Three New York Democrats will head major House committees in the 90th Congress, which convenes Jan. 10.

Despite his troubles with the law and fellow congressmen, Adam Clayton Powell of Harlem again will be chairman of the Committee on Education and Labor.

In 23rd Term Emanuel Celler of Brooklyn, dean of the House and about to embark on his 23rd term, will continue as head of the Judiciary Committee. Its responsibilities include civil rights legislation.

In an unusually rapid rise, spurred by political upsets in other states, Thaddeus J. Dulski of Buffalo will take over the No. 1 spot on the Post Office and Civil Service Committee.

Committee chairmen are chosen under a rigid seniority system. Dulski, with only eight years in the House, is a relative newcomer to be moving into the top spot of his panel.

He was third in seniority this year, with no apparent prospects of moving up for some time.

In unexpected developments, however, Chairman Tom Murray of Tennessee and James H. Morrison of Louisiana, the second ranking member, were defeated in primaries in their states.

No Impact

Powell's many troubles of recent months with the courts, committee members who curbed his powers as chairman, and a House panel looking into the way he has conducted his committee had little impact in his home district.

He was re-elected with a crushing 74 per cent of the vote. Powell has been sentenced to jail for defying court orders to pay $164,000 to a woman who sued him for defamation of character.

The conviction has been appealed to higher courts, and the litigation is expected to continue for many months.

Powell plans to resume his seat and chairmanship when Congress convenes in January.

Figured in CR

The 78-year-old Celler was a principal figure in enactment of civil rights legislation in recent years.

With the liberal forces in the House and in his committee diluted by Republican successes in the 1966 election, Celler faces a tougher job in trying to advance civil rights bills in the future.

Four other New Yorkers serve on the Judiciary Committee—Democrats Jacob H. Gilbert of the Bronx and Herbert Tenzer of Nassau County and Republicans Carleton J. King of Saratoga Springs, and Henry P. Smith III of North Tonawanda.

The only other New York representative in the upper echelons of committees is Democrat Abraham Multer of Brooklyn, second ranking majority member of the Banking and Currency Committee.

Democrat Leo O'Brien of Albany surrendered the No. 2 spot on the Interior and Insular Affairs Committee, and an opportunity to take over the chairmanship eventually, when he decided to retire from Congress.

Gen. Smith Comfortable

HARLINGEN, Tex. (AP) — One of World War II's most colorful figures, retired Marine Maj. Gen. Holland M. "Howlin' Mad" Smith, was reported resting comfortably at Valley Baptist Hospital Tuesday night.

The colorful commander of Marines that defeated the Japanese on the Pacific islands of Saipan and Iwo Jima complained of illness late Monday and was rushed to the hospital. He is 85.

Will Start 2nd Hebrew Class on Monday, Nov. 21

The second session of the recently organized High School Hebrew class will be held Monday, Nov. 21, at 5:30 p. m. in the Jewish Community Center.

All former graduates of the Talmud Torah and all other youth of high school and Junior high school age are invited to attend this tuition-free course. Both Congregation Agudas Achim and Ahavath Israel are sponsoring this program through their combined Hebrew and religious school facility, the Talmud Torah of Kingston.

Rabbi H. Z. Rappaport and Rabbi Harry Z. Schectman will teach this "Concepts of Judaism" class. Session will be held on the first and third Mondays of each month.

Several of the topics to be covered in the course are:

The Contribution of the Prophets; Famous Women in Judaism; The Land of the Bible; The Early History of Israel; Modern Israel; The Role of Moses; Can We Change the Bible; and the Commandments.

Students may register at the next session, Monday, Nov. 21, at 5:30 p. m. at the Jewish Community Center, 96 Maiden Lane.

Hope Orbiter Clears Up Surface Doubt

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) —

"It's just a matter of time now to find out if it's in the proper orbit," said one of the scientists controlling Lunar Orbiter 2's journey to photograph potential astronaut landing sites on the moon from as close as 28 miles.

Space agency scientists at Jet Propulsion Laboratory said all went well during a 17½-second steering rocket firing Tuesday which lowered the spacecraft's orbit to 125 miles above the moon's surface.

Orbiter is scheduled to transmit the first of more than 400 pictures Friday. Scientists hope they'll clear up doubt about the lunar surface left by some blurred Orbiter 1 photographs.

Approve Area Bank Merger

POUGHKEEPSIE, N.Y. (AP) — Merger of the Farmers-Matewan National Bank of Poughkeepsie into the County National Bank of Middletown has been approved by the federal controller of currency, it was announced today.

The announcement was made jointly by the presidents of the two banks, John Taylor of the Poughkeepsie institution, organized in 1834, and Richard Stover of the Middletown bank, founded in 1934.

The merger bank will have 22 offices in Dutchess, Orange and Sullivan counties, and assets of $116 million, they said.

The effective date of the merger is to be fixed by the controller of currency after Dec. 9.

Union Center Conservation Talk Set by Civic Group

UNION CENTER—The Union Center Civic Group invites the public to attend a showing of conservation slides to be held Tuesday, Nov. 22.

George Wislocki, executive director of the Mid-Hudson Catskill Museum and program director of the federally funded Project PINE will be guest speaker. The event will be held at the schoolhouse.

Refreshments will be served. After the lecture a short but important meeting of the civic group will be held.

TODAY IN HISTORY

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Today is Wednesday, Nov. 16, the 320th day of 1966. There are 45 days left in the year.
Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1933, the United States gave diplomatic recognition to Soviet Russia. This followed an exchange of letters between President Franklin D. Roosevelt and Maxim Litvinov, the Soviet commissar for foreign affairs.

On this date:
In 1776, the British captured Ft. Washington in what is now Upper Manhattan.
In 1907, the 46th state, Oklahoma, was admitted to the Union.
In 1942, Gen. Douglas MacArthur assumed personal direction of Allied operations against the Japanese bases at Buna and Gona, in New Guinea.
In 1944, six Allied armies began a great offensive drive in France, Germany and the Netherlands.
Ten years ago — Acting Secretary of State Herbert Hoover Jr. told the United Nations General Assembly that the U.N. would be obliged to take action if so-called Soviet volunteers were sent to the troubled Middle East.
Five years ago — Rep. Sam Rayburn of Texas, speaker of the House for 17 years and congressman for 48, died at the age of 79. He was being treated for cancer at Baylor University Medical Center in Dallas.
One year ago — Inter-American foreign ministers gathered in Rio de Janeiro to find ways of strengthening the Organization of American states.
Coins containing nickel were used as early as 235 B.C.

Tension Mounts In Guessing Game Between 3 Powers

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
HONG KONG (AP) — Red China's neighbors shudder as they watch developments in the world of communism. For students of Communist trends, two main factors arouse apprehension:
—There is growing worry about the Soviet Union. Some qualified students of Communist affairs express fear that pressure from the U.S.S.R.'s own "hawks" is growing, perhaps to the extent of endangering the leadership of party chief Leonid I. Brezhnev and Premier Alexei N. Kosygin.
—The men now ruling China and their supporters appear to believe implicitly in what their own propaganda says.
While China's internal political struggle continues, the Kremlin watches for signs of an upheaval in Peking which might break the anti-Soviet course.
Peking's leaders watch the Kremlin for signs of a neo-Stalinist upheaval which might produce a more militant Soviet regime. The United States watches both.
And both Peking and Moscow watch the United States for any hint of diminished public support for the administration's Viet Nam policy. It all adds up to increasing tension.

Expect U.S. Attack

Red China's propaganda insists that the United States eventually will attack the China mainland that Viet Nam is just a prelude. An attack is probably a distant prospect for Chinese leaders, but to them still inevitable unless they change their course. They show no signs of changing their course.
With its internal political turmoil and economic weakness, Red China is not courting a clash with American power. It is being cautious. But if its leaders are convinced that the clash will come this could lead Peking to actions which might have serious consequences.
Peking has shown that it wants the war in Viet Nam to continue indefinitely and that it is willing to tolerate a certain amount of risk to that end.

Want Milk Price Held

CLEVELAND (AP) — The president of the National Milk Producers Federation wants the U.S. Department of Agriculture to take emergency action to forestall a threatened reduction in the price farmers receive for milk.
Glenn Lake, president of both the national and Michigan federations, asked Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman Monday to issue the order, effective Dec. 1.
Lake made his request as he testified at the first of four department hearings on prices in all 71 federal milk-marketing orders.
Lake asked the secretary to set the minimum milk price at $4.34 a hundredweight, about 46.5 quarts of milk. He proposed that the price be established for December 1966 through June 1967.

HAPPY HOLIDAYS!

SUPPOSE YOU HAD TO WASH THESE DISHES DURING THE HOLIDAY SEASON?

Well, you will. An average family will clean up just about this much kitchen mess from Thanksgiving thru New Years. That's a lot of clutter—a lot of mess, a whole lot of time you could spend pleasantly or profitably—if you had an Automatic Dishwasher.

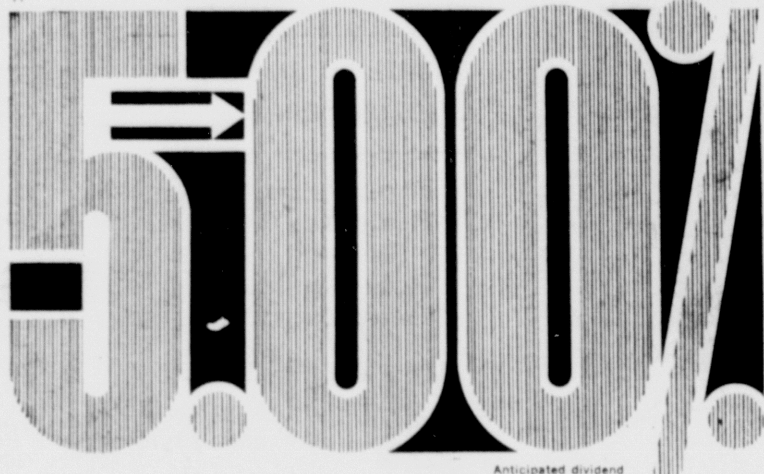

A Dishwasher cuts your kitchen cleanup time by about two-thirds, gets dishes sanitary clean, needs no pre-rinsing—gets you out of the kitchen fast.

See your local dealer about an Automatic Dishwasher—and, Happy Holidays!

Pentagon Cuts Back On Lie Detector Tests

By BOB HORTON

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon, often accused of being less than truthful about some things, is cutting back on the use of lie detector tests.

And Congress, sometimes the accuser, is happy about it.

When a House Committee on Government Operations said federal agencies were too liberal in the use of polygraph — lie detector — examinations, the Defense Department was the first to change its ways.

The Pentagon went out with an order regulating how polygraph tests were to be conducted and stating how its examiners, now numbering over 400, were to be selected, trained and supervised.

"The directive represented the first step taken by any agency to curtail the widespread use of the so-called lie detector test," the committee reported just before adjournment of the 89th Congress. Its report was made public a few days ago.

The committee said the Pentagon conducted 14,978 polygraph tests in the year ending June 30, 1963, the year Congress first really began looking into lie detector usage by the government.

Scores Boston Tourists

BOSTON (AP) — Dr. Walter Muir Whitehill, director of the Boston Athenaeum, a private library which is a prominent Boston landmark, told a surprised conference on tourism in eastern Massachusetts recently that Massachusetts shouldn't try to draw tourists because "the attracting of crowds seldom pays for the handling of all these people and the cleaning up after them."

Dems Make It—Travia Serving as Acting Governor

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The Democrat acting as New York State governor—that's right, the Democrat—is at work at the Capitol, but no one is raising eyebrows.

Assembly Speaker Anthony J. Travia has been acting governor since Saturday and moved to Albany Tuesday. He took over when Gov. Rockefeller, Lt. Gov. Malcolm Wilson and Senate Majority Leader Earl Brydges all journeyed out of state.

Good Swimmer?

LIBERTY, Ky. (AP) — "You a pretty good swimmer?" asked Ira Pittman of his fishing companion, Henry Rodgers. "I could swim all the way across this lake if I had to," said Rodgers. "Well," replied Pittman, "You keep on rocking this boat and you may have to."

Rockefeller and Wilson are vacationing in Puerto Rico and Florida, respectively, while Brydges is engaged in a trip to Washington on business, followed by a Florida vacation. Travia handled some routine gubernatorial business Tuesday. He signed papers for extradition of prisoners from out of state, and he designated a temporary replacement for an ailing judge of the Supreme Court's Appellate Division.

Associated Press Team Reports

Estimate Corruption in Viet Costs U.S. $500,000 Per Day

EDITOR'S NOTE — There are two sides interested in the billions in aid the U.S. is pouring into South Viet Nam — the South Vietnamese and the Viet Cong. How successful are the Reds? This is another in a series of articles on graft, payoffs and diversion in Viet Nam, based on an exhaustive study by an AP reporting team.

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Rounding a bend, the Vietnamese driver wrenched his old truck to a sizzling halt in a cloud of red dust. Five black-uniformed men blocked the road.

The driver climbed wordlessly from his cab. Arguing with the Viet Cong could be fatal.

A few minutes later, the truck rolled on again, lighter by 20 bags of rice. The bags, emblazoned with the red, white and blue handclasp insignia of U.S. AID, already were disappearing into the jungle on the backs of bearers.

Some 25 miles from this Viet Cong "tax collection" roadblock, a white-shirted youth walked into a Saigon pharmacy and bought a bottle of antibiotic tablets.

No questions were asked. The youth didn't have to present a prescription. He simply pocketed the pills and left. In time, and by a circuitous route, the drugs reached the Communists fighting in the jungle.

The U.S. 196th Light Infantry Brigade this month overran a Viet Cong camp at Ba Hao and found, among other things, more than 1,250,000 pounds of U.S. AID rice — enough to feed a guerrilla division for two months.

The sacks still bore the names of the American exporters, including Connell Rice & Sugar Co. of Houston, Tex., and Riviana of Abbeville, La., Houston and New Orleans.

Brigade intelligence officers concluded that the rice probably had been taken off freighters on the way up the river to Saigon, or diverted on the way to the provinces from a Saigon rice mill.

These are three typical ways in which foodstuffs, pharmaceuticals and other goods provided by American funds find their way to the Viet Cong.

And this is only one of the many leaks turned up by an Associated Press reporting team which investigated the problem all the way from Washington to the Vietnamese fighting fronts.

The team concluded that theft, black marketeering, bribery, kickbacks and various other kinds of wrongful wheeling and dealing in the Viet Nam war have been costing U.S. taxpayers at least half a million dollars a day.

U.S. officials readily acknowledged the diversion of American AID goods to the Viet Cong. They say there is no way to pinpoint, or even estimate, the dollar value of the losses.

This is because much of the goods passes into Vietnamese commercial channels and U.S. controls diminish almost to the vanishing point, except for some spot checking.

Vietnamese civilian trucks hauling food, fertilizer, building materials and other AID goods travel the roads unescorted.

Thus, they are wide open to Viet Cong extortion.

"Unless you put a military guard on every convoy, you can't stop the VC shakedowns," said one American military enforcement officer. "And if we did that, we wouldn't have enough men to fight the war."

The Vietnamese police and armed forces do not provide protection for most of the truck traffic outside the cities, though they have established checkpoints along key routes.

It's an entirely different story where military arms, ammunition and supplies are concerned. The U.S. forces maintain a very close guard over their gear in transit or in depots.

And American military authorities say they have found no evidence of any significant amount of U.S.-supplied arms or equipment finding its way to the Viet Cong through connivance of the South Vietnamese military.

Back when the South Vietnamese army was doing most of the ground fighting, the number of weapons lost to the Reds just about balanced the number taken from the Viet Cong.

But with the big U.S. troop buildup, the edge turned against the Communists by 2-1 margin in the first half of 1966.

The drainoff of drugs and food to the Viet Cong is another matter.

"There are many chances of leakage to the Viet Cong and medicines represent one of the most serious leakages of all the commodities we pay for," said a top official of the Agency for International Development.

Lt. Gen. Jonathan Seaman, a top field commander, said medical supplies found in Communist caches often bear American brand names. There is no way of knowing how they got there, he said. They could have been stolen from AID or military stocks, smuggled from Cambodia or Europe, or just bought over the counter in Saigon.

AID authorities claim to have tightened up a great deal on shipment of drugs to Vietnamese civilian hospitals and clinics. The U.S. military says its supplies are guarded and their usage monitored.

An AID investigator said: "A sizable amount of medicine gets to the VC. The VC's agents just buy it in the stores."

Anybody can buy any kind of a drug in Vietnamese pharmacies without a prescription.

The ease with which all kinds of drugs — including antibiotics — can be acquired in Viet Nam is a source of worry to military doctors, such as Capt. Arthur M. Ahearn, who served with the Special Forces before being shifted to Ft. Bragg, N.C.

Ahearn said the Viet Cong gets some of their drugs from the black market — but that pharmaceuticals are cheaper and more accessible to the open market.

"In Viet Nam, you can buy penicillin, streptomycin and tetracycline, a powerful antibiotic, in drug stores without a prescription," Ahearn said.

The Army doctor said the VC especially need powerful anti-infection drugs like tetracycline, which he called "an excellent drug for abdominal infections caused by wounds and sickness."

Ahearn said that strong drugs are kept under double lock in

U.S. military hospitals and supply depots, but that "inevitably, there is some pilferage by civilian workers."

At field dispensaries, Ahearn said, the Army has found it necessary to search all Vietnamese civilian workers before allowing them to board planes back to the cities.

One of the difficulties in curbing the drainoff of rice, cooking oil and other commodities to the VC lies in the practice of channeling this aid through Vietnamese commercial outlets.

It is impossible for a Vietnamese storekeeper to know whether a rice buyer is a member or supporter of the VC, one senior AID official argued.

He also contended that a wholesale distributor cannot know whether a retailer who sends him an order is a VC sympathizer.

AID authorities said they concentrate on trying to block the flow of strategic commodities and that, to do this, they have helped the Vietnamese police establish checkpoints along routes around major cities and ports.

These checkpoints, and river patrols, are supposed to watch for drugs, chemicals, explosives and arms, iron pipe and materials that could be fashioned into weapons.

"The checkpoints often seize rice, which is very important to the Viet Cong," one expert source said.

"This is a delicate problem because the rice is shown on the driver's manifest as consigned to a store in a certain village."

"But how is anyone at the checkpoint to know whether that village at the moment is under government or VC control, or in some shadow zone in between?" "And, of course, the destination may be shown as a village which is known to be firmly government-held — but the rice may be diverted somewhere else."

Will it ever be possible to stop completely the losses of U.S.-supplied and paid for food and goods?

"No," said an AID chief. "If we attempted to starve out all the villages suspected of VC connections, it would necessarily mean starving out a good part of the population of Viet Nam."

The Viet Cong still have the power to interrupt traffic just about any time and nearly any place they wish — fading into the jungle after they have struck.

"Road taxes" imposed by the Viet Cong are a major source of the Communists' money income, as well as a prime source of food.

"The Vietnamese businessman who ships products from the delta to Saigon may have to pay taxes totaling 20, 30 or 40 per cent," a U.S. source said.

"It is part of the tax system and rather elaborate shadow government of the Viet Cong."

The taxes vary from 500 piasters — about $4 — for a small vehicle to as much as 3,000 piasters — about $25 — to let an oil truck pass.

With an insolence that makes U.S. officials shake their heads, the Viet Cong often give receipts to those they hold up.

A driver who pays a tax at one point in his journey has no assurance another VC band won't stop him farther down the road and collect again.

To refuse to pay is to risk the loss of an entire truckload of goods — or death.

American officials react gingerly when asked whether any U.S. contractors pay the Viet Cong in order to free their trucks to travel the roads without hindrance.

"Some American companies have contracted with Vietnamese trucking firms to carry their products," a U.S. government official said.

"These Vietnamese truckers undoubtedly pay off to get through, but the American companies keep clean."

"So I think there is very little payoff to the VC by American companies. French companies operating in Viet Cong territory, of course, have had to pay off."

A key Pentagon official, questioned in Washington, said: "As far as I am concerned, no American contractors are paying the VC."

"If it comes to our attention, we will pull the rug."

Said a spokesman for Esso Corp.:

"We are aware that our contractors find it necessary on occasions to pay money to the Viet Cong to get through checkpoints. We do not approve of this practice, and do not condone it."

As one means of denying critical resources to the Viet Cong, the U.S. mission in Saigon created an economic warfare committee in September 1965.

Last spring, the committee heard that surplus U.S. military property was being auctioned in Saigon under conditions that provided little or no assurance that it was not going to the Viet Cong.

The unshot was a cable from the economic warfare group to Washington and subsequent U.S. government action prohibiting the sale of certain military surplus items in Viet Nam.

Study Rules to Lessen Majority Heads Power

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — A Democratic senator suggests that the Legislature adopt rules to relax the iron grip now exercised by the majority leaders of each house.

Sen. Jack E. Bronston, D - Queens, drew a chilly reaction Tuesday from the Legislature's ranking Democrat, however, when he proposed wider decision-making authority for rank-and-file lawmakers. Bronston's proposals for changes in legislative and electoral procedures were described as "old chestnuts" by Assembly Speaker Anthony J. Travia. Travia said most of the plans had been advanced in previous legislative sessions.

Bronston, who came close to winning election as Senate Minority Leader in 1965, predicted that his proposals would win Republican support.

Among the measures he offered was one which would weaken control of legislative committees by requiring that a bill be reported from committee upon demand of one-third of the members of either house.

Chichester

CHICHESTER — The Helping Hands Missionary Society held its regular monthly business meeting at the home of Mrs. Albert Kirk Tuesday evening. An all day work meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Harvey Ostrander Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Ostrander gave a family dinner at their home Monday evening, Nov. 7 in honor of their daughter, Mrs. George Sweet's birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. George MacDonald of Kingston visited relatives here Sunday.

Plattekill Notes

The Golden Years program presented by the lecturer, Mrs. Charles Clark at the meeting of the Plattekill Grange Saturday evening was highlighted by an exhibit of hobbies. Exhibitors included:

Hand paintings by Mrs. James Patton and Mrs. Kinwood Underhill; hooked rugs by Mrs. Fred Bernard and Mrs. Elwood Howell; antique clocks by Eber Smith; dried leaf arrangement by Bessie Powell; floral hanger decorations by Mrs. Joseph DeLapp; stuffed animals by Mrs. Gladys Hammond; rock collection by Mrs. Elmer Fries; crocheting by Miss Susie Foster; handsome aprons by Mrs. Amelie Klein; furniture refinishing by Gertrude Dawes and ceramics by Louise McCord. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Everett demonstrated their hobby by the presentation of dramatic skits.

Contribution was voted for the Salvation Army fund and a collection suggested at the next meeting for the Christmas fund for the foster Children in Ulster County.

Mrs. Elmore Lozier, chairman of the service and hospitality committee announced a card party Monday evening, Nov. 28.

Probe Air Crash, N. J. Pilot Killed

HOMESTEAD, Fla. (AP) — An investigation continued today into the flaming crash of a pair of fighter jets at Homestead Air Force Base.

The two pilots killed were Maj. Alvin M. Cole Jr., 41, of Norfolk, Va., and 1st Lt. David A. Siggins, 23, of Whippany, N.J.

The crash occurred when one plane dropped on top of the other, sending burning wreckage a half-mile down the main runway.

Where's the Car?

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — Two sheriff's deputies got their man here recently but managed to lose their car in the process.

The officers left their car in front of a nightclub when they went inside to question a man. He ran through the back door and they followed. Meanwhile, someone inside ran through the front door and made off with their cruiser.

UCCC Students Visit Wallace's For Sales Lesson

To learn on-the-spot information about sales promotion, members of the sales promotion class at Ulster County Community College recently visited the Wallace Company department store on Albany Avenue Extension.

"Finding out about sales promotion first hand is a good supplement to reading about it in a textbook," said Raymond T. Hubbard, assistant professor of business at the college. "So we decided to take the class to the Wallace store."

At the Wallace Company store, the class members heard Joseph Chromy, store manager, speak on the planning and development of the store's sales promotion budget. He explained that the Wallace Company, which has a chain of seven stores, is planning on further expansion in the Hudson Valley.

Chromy is a graduate of the Industrial Arts Institute in New York City, where he majored in display, and also attended New York University.

His work experience has been extensive, including positions for Wallachs, the Hecht Company, and a period as advertising manager for the William H. Frear Company in Troy.

Chromy was a buyer for Wallace firm before becoming manager of the Kingston store.

Three-fourths of all rural roads in the United States are surfaced.

NEW PALTZ NEWS

Parent Conclaves Slated Nov. 22nd At Local School

The first quarterly marking period came to an end Thursday, Nov. 10 at New Paltz High School. Report cards will be mailed to parents of students in grades 7 through 12 Friday, Nov. 18. Parents should receive these in Saturday's mail.

Tuesday, Nov. 22 beginning at 7:30 p. m. teachers will be at school to confer with parents about their students' marks. Because of the unusually large turnout at this first marking period, the following schedule will be followed:

From 7:30-8:30 p. m., reserved for parents whose last names begin with the letters A through M; 8:30-9:30 p. m., reserved for parents whose last names begin with the letters N through Z.

A directory of teacher room assignments will be available for parents at each entrance to the building from the main parking area.

If parents expect to spend more than 10 minutes with the teacher, then an appointment is desired. John L. Wyman, high school principal, may be contacted.

Fund Raising Project

The New Paltz High School anthropology class is once again holding the New Paltz license plate sale. The plate is metal with "New Paltz, N. Y." imprinted in maroon on white background and may be attached above or below the automobile license plate. Plates may be obtained from the students in anthropology. Funds raised will be used to defray part of the expenses of a cultural trip.

Hear of Puerto Rico

Approximately 25 seniors from New Paltz High School who are members of the sociology and anthropology classes accompanied by their teacher, Albert Flore, visited the SUC at New Paltz recently. They were the invited guests of Carlton Mabey, coordinator of lectures on civil rights. This lecture was of particular interest to the students because it featured Joseph Monserrat, a special representative from the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, who spoke on racial problems and the position of the Puerto Rican in society.

It is hoped that several of the students attending will be going to Puerto Rico during the Easter vacation next year.

Thanksgiving Recess

The New Paltz Central School System (Duzine, Central and Gardiner) will close at noon on Wednesday, Nov. 23 for the Thanksgiving holidays and reopen on Monday, Nov. 28. Special transportation arrangements have been made for the kindergarten session. All other buses

Unity Service Slated Nov. 22 At St. Joseph's

St. Joseph's Church will host a service of Christian Unity Tuesday, Nov. 22, at 8 p. m. The service is jointly sponsored by the Reformed, Lutheran, Episcopal, Methodist and Catholic Churches of New Paltz. Clergymen of the participating church will take part, reading the scripture, leading in prayer and hymns.

The theme of the service will be one of Thanksgiving for the common Christian faith and for the progress of the ecumenical movement. Earlier this year a service of Christian Unity was held at the Reformed Church during Holy Week and was termed highly successful and inspiring.

All members of churches in New Paltz may attend.

will make the usual runs.

Parents are reminded that no lunch will be available in the school cafeteria as previously announced on Wednesday, Nov. 23.

The lumberjack's whiskers were a month old and the barber was having a rough time with them. He nicked the man on the lip, then the chin, and finally the nose. Then he asked:

Joe (the barber)—Have you been in my shop before?

Pete (the lumberjack)—No. I lost my arm in the sawmill.

If a man could have half his wishes, he would double his troubles.

At the end of the day, a bank officer was closing the door behind him when he noticed a customer outside with bundles in his arms and a perplexed look on his face, staring at the night depository.

The officer approached him and asked if he could help him. The man replied excitedly:

Mr. Scott—My wife will shoot me!

Mr. Long (the bank officer)—What happened?

Mr. Scott—I dropped the wrong package down the chute.

Mr. Long (the bank officer)—What was in it?

Mr. Scott—Pork chops.

A retail dealer in refrigerators doing business in one of the large cities wrote to a manufacturer ordering a carload of refrigerators. The manufacturer wired him:

"Unable to wait so long," wired back the refrigerator dealer, "cancel order."

The stunning blonde was chatting with her escort in a small cocktail lounge when the waiter approached with their drinks.

As he reached the table, he stumbled and dumped a martini on the rocks down the back of the gal's dress. She shrieked, jumped to her feet, dashed wildly around the table and then streaked from the room, her distraught date following on her heels.

A man seated a few tables away with his date beckoned to the waiter and said, Mr. Brown—

Wants Deferment To Help Wife in Battle for Life

DETROIT (AP) — Tom Michaels has told his draft board he can't fight for his country because he's fighting for his wife's life.

The 22-year-old spray painter at a truck plant is appealing the decision of Selective Service Board 303 in suburban Warren that he is 1A—qualified to enter military service immediately.

Lost Deferment

He lost a student deferment while he was at the bedside of his wife, Mary 23.

Her kidney failed Sept. 9, five days after their first wedding anniversary.

To stay alive, doctors said, Mrs. Michaels must have her blood filtered twice a week on an artificial kidney machine.

Mrs. Michaels said her husband must work to pay for her hospital care.

The young couple hopes to avoid a hospital bill of $10,000 a year by buying a $6,200 artificial kidney machine.

Mrs. Michaels would be trained to operate the machine. He already has made a $1,200 down payment.

"I can't operate the machine myself while I'm on it," Mrs. Michaels said. "I could pass out or something. It's just not safe."

Only One

She said Michaels is the only person in their families who

Sees General Shakeup In Rocky Regime

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—There is a "general shakeup" in store for the Rockefeller administration but it does not indicate dissatisfaction with the governor, Sen. Thomas Laverne, R-Rochester, says.

Most of the governor's top-level appointees have served for eight years, he said Tuesday during a radio interview. Some now may find a factor in leaving their posts. Others may have the opportunity to make more money in private industry, the legislator commented.

He noted the impending resignation of William S. Huitts, commissioner of the Department of Motor Vehicles, Keith S. Mo-Huiz, commerce commissioner and Mary Goode Krone, president of the state Civil Service Commission.

"I am sure that all these will be done for the personal reason of the individual involved and not by pressure or anything other than that," Laverne said.

could spend the 10 hours required to filter her blood through the artificial kidney.

The draft board revoked Michaels' student deferment after he dropped out of senior-year classes in electrical engineering at Lawrence Institute of Technology.

He was spending almost all his spare time at his wife's bedside for nine weeks at three hospitals. He also took three weeks off his $5,500-a-year job at the Dodge truck plant.

Dr. Elsie Eng, their family physician at Cleveland Clinic in Cleveland, Ohio, and their parish priest wrote to the draft board in October. They explained the seriousness of Mrs. Michaels' kidney failure and her need for the kidney device.

"The board said the letters weren't specific enough as to why he was needed at home," Mrs. Michaels said.

Last Monday, the doctors again wrote to Board 303.

"The doctors couldn't believe they had to write two letters," Mrs. Michaels said.

Mrs. Michaels said Rep. James G. O'Hara, D-Mich., had contacted Col. Arthur Holmes, state Selective Service director. There was no immediate indication what action would be taken on the case.

Appraisers Elect Mrs. Royael Head

The Mid-Hudson Chapter No. 123, of Society of Real Estate Appraisers held its regular dinner meeting at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

Preceding the business meeting, Dewey Logan introduced Fred J. Martin, New York State director of Federal Housing Administration who gave an interesting talk on Methods and Procedures on FHA's new service to the public and industry and also the Appraisers Role, present and future. At the conclusion of the talk many questions were asked by the members present.

Election of officers was held and the following officers were elected for 1967:

Mrs. Adele Royael, SRA, Kingston, president; William J. McIntyre Jr., Newburgh, first vice-president; Mrs. Reta Frederick, Kingston, second vice-president; Lawrence D. Benton, Newburgh, secretary and William F. McMaster, Fishkill, treasurer.

Directors are Raymond Kozendorfer, Kingston; Edward C. O'Connor, Kingston, and Robert Case of Poughkeepsie.

The installation dinner will be held Wednesday, Dec. 7, at the Little Brook Farm Restaurant, Plattekill.

McIntyre and Mrs. Royael who were delegates to the Eastern Conference of the Society of Real Estate Appraisers, held in New York, gave an excellent report to the members.

Mrs. Royael, president, thanked her dinner committee, Reta Frederick and Dewey Logan, for their assistance. Approximately 80 members and guests from Kingston and out of town attended.

Still Choose Panel For Brink's Burglary

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—Ten jurors and an alternate remained to be chosen today for the trial of Joel Singer of Montreal, who is charged in the cannon-aided burglary of a Brink's Co. vault.

Two jurors were chosen Tuesday as five veniremen were dismissed, three of them on challenges by the defense. The trial is underway in Onondaga County Court before Judge Ormand N. Gale.

Singer, 23, showed no emotion as he observed the proceedings. He is charged with grand larceny and third-degree burglary in the theft of $423,421 from a vault inside the branch office here on Oct. 23, 1965.

Claims Auto Exhaust Will Effect Weather

SCHENECTADY, N.Y. (AP)—Dr. Vincent J. Schafer, a pioneer researcher in "seeding" clouds to produce precipitation, says air pollution from auto-

Sugar-Beets Hurt

OMAHA, Neb. (AP)—Spokesmen for the nation's sugar-beet growers, including one from Auburn, N.Y., say that rising costs, in addition to other factors, threaten their operation.

They said a solution would be a guarantee by processors of a minimum raw beet price related to the average quoted price of raw cane sugar on the New York market.

Those appearing for the growers during the seven-hour-long U.S. Department of Agriculture hearing included Frank Turek of Auburn.

The spokesmen said their proposal would have the effect of guaranteeing improved prices to growers. The growers claim exhausts may be changing the weather over much of the nation.

Schafer, director of the Atmospheric Sciences Research Center at the State University here, said Tuesday lead particles from gasoline combine with iodine that enters the atmosphere from various, widespread sources to produce rain or snow.

Just 20 years after he discovered that seeding clouds with dry ice could produce rainfall, Schafer now suggests that the combination of particles from anti-knock compounds in gasoline and iodine "could exert a profound influence" on cloud systems.

Schafer said, however, that it would take much more study to pin down the effect of auto exhausts on the weather.

planned to present their case today.

The department will evaluate the testimony in determining prices for the 1967 crop.

BRIDGE*How Partners Can Fall Out

By Oswald & James Jacoby
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Jim: "Here is a hand that almost caused a fight in Waco, Tex., last month. South and West were both experts, playing with weak partners."

Oswald: "The normal play at three no-trump is for East to rise with the ace of hearts and return the nine. South will take three clubs, leaving the high club in dummy; cash the ace-king of diamonds to see if the queen will drop, enter dummy with the last club and try the spade finesse. West will take the king and cash three heart tricks for down one. South will make the last trick with the ace of spades."

Jim: "That's just what happened at most tables. This South went down two. It seems that East huddled before playing the ace of hearts. Then, when he returned the nine, West said, 'Nice work.' South glared at West and said, 'I assume you hold the king of spades for that remark.' West replied, 'Now that you ask, I sure do.'"

Oswald: "West's first remark was wrong but South's question was a frightful breach of ethics. What happened?"

Jim: "South cashed the ace and king of diamonds first. West played the five and then the three while East dropped the ten and then the nine. Then South ran four clubs stopping in his own hand and West discarded a heart and the eight of spades. South threw West in with the queen of hearts. West cashed two more hearts, said 'Surprise!' and produced the seven of diamonds to give his partner the last two tricks with diamonds. Down two, instead of the usual one."

Oswald: "West certainly out-

The Right Thing To Do

By Elizabeth L. Post

DO YOUR TABLE MANNERS MEET THE TEST?

So many readers write in every week about table manners and the difficulties presented by certain foods, that it seemed time to give you all a chance to test your knowledge. Allowing five points for each correct answer, your manners are impeccable if you score 55 to 60, acceptable at 45 to 50, but below 45 you need a refresher course.

1. A dry piece of bread is acceptable as a "pusher." True — False —

2. Cake with soft icing should be eaten with a work. True — False —

3. Soup cups with one or two handles may be picked up. True — False —

4. You must wait for the hostess to start eating before you pick up your fork. True — False —

5. Bread may be used to sop up, gravy or sauce. True — False —

6. Salad may not be cut with a knife. True — False —

7. It is correct to eat bacon in the fingers. True — False —

8. Cheese may be spread with a knife or a fork. True — False —

9. Corn should be served cut from the cob at a formal dinner. True — False —

10. Crackers may be crumbled into soup. True — False —

11. Spaghetti should be cut into short lengths with the edge of the fork. True — False —

12. Large shrimp in a shrimp cocktail are cut with a knife. True — False —

Here are the correct answers:

1. True. 2. Nothing. "goosey" should be eaten in the fingers.

3. True. But until the soup is cool enough to drink, use your spoon.

4. False. Even if she forgets to say "please start," you may begin after four or five people are served.

5. True. Break it into small pieces and eat it with your fork.

6. False. Stainless steel blades did away with the old ban on knives.

7. True, especially if it is crisp and crumbly.

8. True. For example, if cheese is served with salad and crackers, a bite may be placed on the cracker with a fork.

9. True. It is too difficult to eat delicately on the cob.

10. True. But only one or two at a time.

11. False. Spaghetti is wound around the fork, tines pressed against the plate to hold the spaghetti on.

12. False. Shrimp cocktail is usually served in a stem glass and it is necessary to hold the glass with one hand while you cut the shrimp with the edge of the fork.

Rocky's Daughter Splits

NEW YORK (AP) — Ann Rockefeller Pierson, 32, daughter of New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, has obtained a divorce in Juarez, Mexico, from the Rev. Robert L. Pierson on grounds of incompatibility of temperament.

Mrs. Pierson and her 40-year-old husband, who is rector of St. Barnabas Episcopal church in Newark, N.J., and had participated in civil rights marches in the South, had been separated since September 1965.

SUSAN HARTMAN TERI MARCUS

Students Selected for All State Orchestra

It has been announced that Susan Hartman, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Joseph Hartman of 319 Albany Avenue, and Teri Marcus, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Marcus of 58 West O'Reilly Street, were selected to participate in the All State Orchestra at the 31st Annual New York State School Music Association Conference in Buffalo on Nov. 30 through Dec. 3.

The orchestra is composed of outstanding high school instrumentalists chosen during auditions held in October at various centers throughout the state.

The All State Orchestra will be under the direction of Dr. Thor Johnson, former conductor of the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra. A gala concert will be presented Saturday, Dec. 3 along with All State Choir and Band. The program will include Overture to Mignon by Thomas; Variations on a Theme of Haydn by Brahms; and Music for Orchestra by Akutawaga.

Both students play violin and are members of the Kingston High School Orchestra.

Wilson Presents Flag to SEEC From Rockefeller

The regular monthly meeting of "SEEC" was held Oct. 25 at the YWCA. During the opening ceremonies an American Flag donated to SEEC by Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson was presented to Doris Hamma, president of SEEC, by Pearl Weber, also a certificate which read — "The Flag of the United States of America which accompanies this certificate has been flown over the Capitol of the State of New York and has been presented to SEEC, Social, Economic, Educational and Cultural Endeavor, by Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson, on this 25th day of October." — Signed, Nelson A. Rockefeller, Governor.

Plan Ashtay Sale
Karl Pitcock was appointed as chairman for the purchase of ashtay for the holidays, the money to be used for SEEC. It was announced by Robert Richmond, chairman of the Eye Conservation and Blind Committee of the Kingston Lions Club, that the annual dinner for the blind and near blind will be held Nov. 22 at Temple Emanuel, Albany Avenue, at 6:30 p. m. Invitations have been sent to the blind and it is requested they send in the return card as soon as possible. This dinner is given annually by the Kingston Lions Club.

The November and December meetings were consolidated and were held Tuesday evening at which time SEEC held their Christmas Party. Guest of the evening was William Skilling of WGHQ.

After the meeting adjourned a social hour was enjoyed at which time a tape was played by Joyce Anderson of the program that was broadcast on Town Meeting of the Air on WGHQ-FM by members of SEEC and the Kingston Lions Club.

Cells of an electric eel are laid out in a series; human cells are parallel, hence no accumulation of electricity.

SITE OF CLEARANCE PROJECT — Demolition crews of William M. Young Co., Inc., of Newark, N. J., have already started here on the current clearing project of Broadway East Urban Renewal. The firm has a contract totaling $234,000 for the razing of some 300 structures in the area. The site above is at the intersection of Meadow Street and Hasbrouck Avenue. The huge tract to the right was cleared earlier this year. (Freeman photo by Kruth).

Dismiss Charges Against Two in City Court Cases

Charges against two defendants were dismissed in city court today.

One was for alleged petit larceny lodged against Mrs. Polody Puncius, 67, of Route 32, Kingston. She operates an Albany Avenue rooming house and it was charged that personal items of a woman guest had been appropriated for reported lack of rent.

Attorney Harry Gold appeared for the defendant and Assistant District Attorney James H. Fisher for the prosecution.

Also dismissed was a charge dealing with an alleged malicious telephone call against Louis Levine, 53, of Kingston. Police said the call had been made to a City Hall office, and it was dismissed by Judge Hubert A. Richter after a reported apology.

Aaron E. Klein, former city judge, appeared for Levine and Fisher for the prosecution.

John J. McGrath Jr., 26, of 261 River Road, New Paltz, charged last month with driving while intoxicated after a two-car mishap at Albany and Manor Avenues pleaded guilty today to the lesser charge of failure to keep right, and was fined $25. Attorney John J. Schick appeared for him and Fisher for the prosecution.

Bernard Carr, 23, of 15 Elizabeth Street, charged with driving a vehicle with an inadequate directional signal, was fined $5, and Donald Galbreath, 26, of Niagara Falls, booked on a faulty muffler charge, was fined $10 Tuesday.

ON DEMOLITION LIST — By this time next week there should be a huge gaping hole where this three-story brick building now stands at East Union and Hasbrouck Avenue in the Broadway East Urban Renewal Project. This structure and others in the immediate vicinity are in the current demolition contract awarded to William M. Young Co., Inc., Newark, N. J., totaling $234,000. Buildings, barns, sheds and other outbuildings are to be razed. Some 300 structures, including home, commercial and industrial under the current clearance program. (Freeman photo by Kruth).

Viet Fighting . . . U.S. Approves tried to cut the Communist sea supply line by intercepting traffic south of the 17th Parallel dividing North and South Viet Nam.

In other developments, Premier Nguyen Cao Ky's government announced a Cabinet reshuffle and U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge denied reports that he is quitting his post.

The Ky government said it would swear in four new Cabinet ministers Thursday to replace men who quit as a result of the dispute between northern and southern factions in the government. A few hours later a government spokesman said the swearing-in had been postponed until Friday but gave no reason for the delay.

In the Tay Ninh sector where Operation Attleboro continued, a unit of the 1st Infantry Division reported destroying a Viet Cong camp and finding 15 enemy dead. A U.S. spokesman said they were killed by air strikes by F100 Super Sabre jets.

Other units of the 1st Division uncovered 490 tons of rice in two caches to bring the total rice captured in Operation Attleboro to a near record 2,000 tons. U.S. forces have reported killing 965 Communist soldiers since the operation to flush out the Viet Cong 9th Division started Oct. 15. An estimated 30,000 U.S. troops are pushing the hunt.

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market rallied strongly in active trading early this afternoon after President Johnson's successful surgery.

Doctors announced that a polyp removed from Johnson's throat was not malignant.

Prices moved ahead on a broad front and most groups. Among the electronics, Zenith and Raytheon picked up more than a point.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials at noon was up 4.95 at 820.26.

Training Center Aids Retarded Children in Area

Thirteen children are registered in the day training center operated at School No. 4 by the Ulster County Chapter of the New York State Association for Retarded Children.

Classes are held Monday, Wednesday and Friday September to August at the school on Delaware and Lindsley Avenues. Children range in age from 3 to 11 years. Transportation is provided by the association on a door-to-door basis whenever possible.

Children in the program are either those who are too young for the public schools or those who have been excluded from school because of various reasons.

List Objectives

The objectives of the program are to provide organized developmental experiences for mentally retarded children in this county who are living at home and who are not eligible for participation in existing programs; to facilitate home care by developing independence in personal needs; to reduce social isolation by peer contacts in various activities; to stimulate experiences in learning through reinforcement and exposure to achieve the highest possible development and use of capacities and abilities; to channel energies into socially acceptable behavior and goals; to aid parents to adapt to the stress of a retarded child in the family and to provide means of aiding the family unit to accept this problem.

The center is under the direction of Mrs. Pearl Malkis, teacher, Mrs. Ruth Pidone, assistant to the teacher and Mrs. Alice Heilman, speech therapist.

Requirements for mentally retarded children to enter the program are very minimal—the child must be able to walk. The child does not need to be toilet-trained or able to talk, at present. This is the function of the program insofar as training is given at the center and reinforcement of the training is administered by the family at home.

The Ulster County Community Chest has been very instrumental in helping the Association with funds for this program.

Labor Leaders

which has 350,000 members, and for its Local 825 of Newburgh, Orange County.

Thomas D. Shost, speaking for seven municipalities in the Mid-Hudson Municipal Association, said the power project is vital to the growth and vitality of the Hudson River Valley.

Mayor Lorenz Graber of Highland Falls, Orange County, said in a statement that opponents of the project do not "realize that jobs are more important than sunsets and views."

Gaber said: "I have never heard of a hungry person climbing a hill to see a sunset while his children wait at home for food."

Chemical Issues Seem Ready for a Comeback

Q "Urged by professionals whom we respect, we purchased 100 Mallinckrodt Chemical at 104. The last time I dared look it was 66. Do you have any word of comfort?"

R.G. A) Indeed I have. Shortly after your letter was written Mallinckrodt had bounced back nearly 20 points to around 84 bid. This action reflected the generally strong markets of late October, the likelihood of a comeback for chemical shares and rising profits from Mallinckrodt's operations. Your company reported a 40 per cent gain in share earnings for the first nine months of 1966. The September dividend was raised to 35 cents from the previous quarterly payment of 27 1/2 cents.

For several years the price movements of the chemical stocks have been irregular at best. Market action depends on their respective positions in such areas as plastics, synthetic fibres, fertilizers and heavy chemicals. From January to mid-October of 1966 the group declined 36 per cent against a drop of 25 in the Dow industrials, according to a recent study of the industry. A turnaround is anticipated which should move chemicals into a more favored position. I would hold Mallinckrodt.

Q "My problem seems to be that I'm getting middle-aged and don't know whether to buy growth or income. I have American Can and American Standard. Would you gamble on Benquet?"

M.S. A) My advice is to start over again and forget low-priced speculations such as Benquet. You've probably reached your peak of earning power and should make every dollar count. If you want growth — and I think you should — you will begin to rebuild your list with that as your principal objective.

If you make such a plan and stick to it, you should find your capital enhanced when you reach 70. In your position I would switch American Can into American Hospital Supply and American Standard into General Telephone; and put new funds into Union Oil.

Willie Mays Third

Clemente Is National MVP; Nips Sandy Koufax, 218-210

Dodger Hurler Receives More 1st Place Votes

NEW YORK (AP) — Roberto Clemente, flashy right fielder of the Pittsburgh Pirates, was named the National League's Most Valuable Player today, edging Los Angeles' Sandy Koufax by only 10 points.

Clemente, whose timely and explosive hitting helped the Pirates come close to winning the pennant, received one less first-place vote than 27-game winner Koufax but won on total points, 218 to 208. Clemente had eight votes for first, Koufax nine.

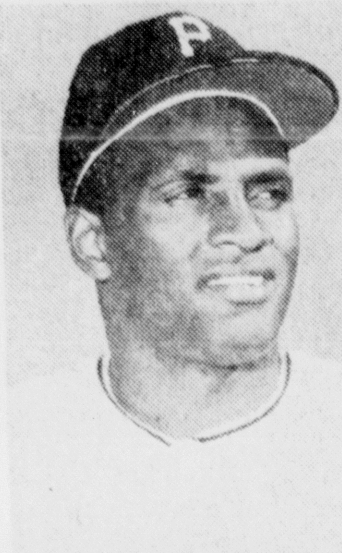

Koufax won the MVP award in 1963 and finished second to San Francisco's Willie Mays last year. Just two weeks ago the brilliant Dodger left-hander was named, for an unprecedented third time, the winner of the Cy Young Award as baseball's best pitcher.

Clemente, who batted .317, hit 29 homers and drove in 119 runs, was the only player named on all 20 ballots which were cast by two baseball writers in each league city. Koufax was named on all but one ballot, but even if he had drawn a second-place vote on that one he would have fallen one point short.

A first-place vote is worth 14 points, a second-place vote nine, a third-place vote eight and down to one for 10th place.

Eight for First
Clemente, 32 and a 12-year veteran, received eight votes for first, 10 for second and one for third. Koufax, who became a 20-game winner for the third time, collected nine votes for first, six for second, one for third, two for fourth and one for fifth.

Felipe Alou of Atlanta drew two first-place votes and finished fifth with 83 points while Philadelphia's Rich Allen got the other vote for first and placed fourth with 107. Mays had 111 for third.

Rounding out the first 10 are Juan Marichal, San Francisco, 74; Phil Regan, Los Angeles, 66; Hank Aaron, Atlanta, 57; Matty Alou, Pittsburgh, 37; and Pete Rose, Cincinnati, 31.

The award for Clemente comes in a year when he missed winning a third straight batting title and fourth over-all. His .317 average was fourth best in the league, but his 29 homers and 119 RBI were the most he's ever had in one season.

Clemente's performance was the primary reason the Pirates led the league for much of the season. They faltered near the end, were eliminated from contention on the next-to-the-last day of the season and finished in third place, three games out.

Despite the constant pain in his left arm, Koufax pitched the Dodgers to their second straight pennant. And for the second straight season he won the pennant-clinching game.

Sire Stakes Run At Roosevelt

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Cee Zam and Clever Ward captured the 3-year-old trotting divisions of the New York Sire Stakes Tuesday night at Roosevelt Raceway.

Cee Zam took the $40,263 fully division by 2 1/4 lengths over Avon Mary. Ritz's Acclaim was third. The winner did the mile in 2:08 4/5 and paid $10.80.

Clever Ward came from behind to win the $40,063 colt and gelding division in a non-betting race. The gelding covered the mile in 2:09 3/5. Donald James finished second.

Meanwhile, in featured races at other harness tracks across the state Tuesday:

Batavia Downs — Midwest-erner ($8.80) took the $1,200 pace by a head over Abbe Lark in 2:08.

Saratoga Raceway — Swamp Foot ($12.40) won the $1,000 trot by three-quarters of a length over Smart Sam in 2:09 4/5.

Levy Scores 40 But Team Loses

Stone Ridge overpowered Spada's Sport Shop, 80-72, despite a 40-point barrage by San Levy, in the YMCA basketball league.

Levy hit with 18 fields and had four free throws, but Stone Ridge's superior team balance paid off against the Spada's five-man lineup.

Cliff Schoonmaker Jr. led the winners with 29 points and Bill Egan added 20.

The score:

Spada's Sport Shop (72)	FG	FP	FT	T

Computer Helps Arizona State Beat Opponents

By STEVE BASSETT
TEMPE, Ariz. (AP)—"Whirr, whoosh, brr, clackity clack."

Translated: The split end goes right off the I-formation with the flanker right and the left halfback in motion.

"Zip, whirr, whoosh," and so the sounds went as the plays of Arizona State's next football opponent were analyzed, almost down to the boil on the quarter-back's neck.

There was no need to look for chalk diagrams on the blackboard, young crew-cut coaching assistants with clip boards or, for that matter, a football field or dirty sweat sock.

Instead, in dustfree, almost antiseptic surroundings, with temperatures at a constant 65 to 75 degrees, there was "The Monster."

The seven-unit $250,000 computer insatiably ate its way through stacks of scouting reports amid a galaxy of blinking lights, spinning magnetic tapes, clicking typewriters and indistinguishable sounds.

In preparation for a recent game with Oregon, the computer was fed 400 plays from the Ducks' early season games. Once placed on punch cards, about an hour task, The Monster needed only 50 minutes to digest the plays and print a complete scouting report.

This included the frequency of plays and formations, down and distance per play, whether from right or left hash mark, passes, touchdowns, two-point conversion tries, plays from inside their own and opponent's 20-yard line—and then refinements on all of these.

"It would take three coaches from 36 to 40 hours to do the same thing," said Paul Kemp, Arizona State backfield coach. "It gives us speed and even some accuracy we wouldn't get if we were doing the reports by hand," said Kemp. "We're real pleased."

The Sun Devils, 3-5 for the season, head into their final two games.

QB Rivals Tense But Not Panicky

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Notre Dame's Baby Bombers, Terry Hanratty and Jim Seymour, are tense but not panicky over the big game with tough Michigan State Saturday.

"Sure, I feel a little nervous, but the whole team does," acknowledged Seymour, the 19-year-old pass-catching end of the Fighting Irish's celebrated sophomore battery today.

"It's not that we're jittery or scared. We're just all fired up. I've never seen a team so up for a game."

Hanratty, the 18-year-old quarterback, said he felt there was no chance that the younger members of the team might crack under the pressure of such an important game.

"We've played eight games already," he added. "Besides, the older men on the team — Larry Conjar, Nick Eddy, George Gooddeck — will keep us settled down."

Notre Dame's hopes of winning the national championship and completing its first perfect season since 1949 depends largely on this pair of rookies who have captured the imagination of the country.

Their test will be given a severe test at East Lansing, Mich. Saturday by a big, rugged and quick Michigan State team which has swept through nine games in a row. Notre Dame, top-ranked nationally, is a three-point favorite over the No. 2 Spartans.

Hanratty, a 6-foot-1, 190-pound throwing whiz from Butler, Pa., has completed 77 of 147 passes for 1,221 yards and eight touchdowns. He can whip a sidearm short pass through a maize of enemy arms or hit a moving target half the distance down the field.

Seymour, 6-4 and 205 pounds, is quick and has remarkable moves. He has caught 37 passes for 712 yards and six touchdowns.

The rangy end from Berkley, Mich., injured his ankle in the Oklahoma game Oct. 22 but returned to the lineup against Duke last week. "My ankle is fine," he says. "I'll be ready."

Common Rivals Wary on Picking ND-State Winner

By JOE MOOSHIL
CHICAGO (AP)—Every football buff in the country is busy trying to figure who will win the Notre Dame-Michigan State football game Saturday but there are only two men who have first-hand knowledge.

They happen to be Alex Agase, Northwestern's coach, and Jack Mollenkopf, Purdue's coach.

Agase and Mollenkopf have the distinction and misfortune of being the only coaches who have faced both Michigan State and Notre Dame.

Naturally, neither Agase nor Mollenkopf risk picking a winner.

"Let's say the final score will be 15-14," Mollenkopf told the Chicago Football Writers Tuesday. "and you can pick your own winner."

"Notre Dame is deeper in personnel," said Mollenkopf. "and Michigan State may have an edge in speed. Both defenses are great. I don't think either team can run against the other and must rely on passing. Notre Dame has shown better passing."

Agase's Thinking

Agase feels there is no way to measure a game upon which so much is at stake.

"Throw all past performances out the window," said Agase. "you have to rate them even-temper and start from scratch. Coaches know one hundred per cent what their own team will attempt and ninety per cent what the opposition will try to do."

Oddly enough, Notre Dame and Michigan State had opposite experiences against the common rivals which both teams faced on successive weekends.

Notre Dame struggled to a 26-14 victory over Purdue and the following week blew Northwestern apart 35-7.

Michigan State ran into Purdue at midseason, piled up a 28-0 lead in the third quarter and coasted to a 41-20 victory. The following week the Spartans ran into a dogged Northwestern team and were hard pressed to put across a 22-0 decision in a game which was a lot closer than the score indicates.

Crack Runners In Road Races

Several more outstanding college runners have entered the five-mile race in the 55th Annual YMCA Thanksgiving Day Road Races at Poughkeepsie.

The new list includes:

Jim Quinn, sophomore at Holy Cross and former DCSL champion, and Dave Crans, No. 1 runner for Syracuse, both former Arlington High stars.

Joe Daley, champion runner for Wappingers High school and Parry Teasdale, No. 1 on the Colgate track cross country team.

John Forbes, Marist ace and Jim Burhans, a sophomore at Villanova.

The United AA from New York city has entered a metropolitan squad in the five-mile, Highland High and Red Hook High school have submitted team entries. One of the finest fields in the history of the races is expected.

MOVING OUT — BUT THE STEELERS
WON—Johnny Roland (23) of St. Louis Cards is on the move in first quarter at Pittsburgh, Pa., after handoff from quarterback Terry Nofsinger

Pick Irish To Defeat Spartans in Big One

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
NEW YORK (AP) — Notre Dame will defeat Michigan State Saturday in college football's Game of the Decade — and the Irish defense will be responsible.

The names of the Notre Dame passing combination of Terry Hanratty to Jim Seymour plus the two running backs, Nick Eddy and Larry Conjar, virtually have become household names during the season with its eight straight victories.

But who knows the names of the defensive unit that blanketed five of those opponents and allowed the other three foes only a total of four touchdowns?

This is the initial Notre Dame foursome which will be there to greet any Michigan State ball carrier: Kevin Hardy, 270 pounds, and Pete Duranko, 240, at the tackles, and Allen Page, 240, and Tom Rhoads, 220, at ends.

Michigan State's defense is keyed to Bubba Smith, the end who towers 6-7 and weighs 290. Sometimes he shifts to middle guard but no matter where he is, the opposition doesn't try to annoy him. The Spartan attack, which has scored the points that has meant nine successive triumphs, has Bob Apisa doing the heavy blasting; Clinton Jones and Dwight Lee sweeping in the ends; and Jim Raye doing the throwing.

North Carolina State over Clemson: Clemson already has won at least a tie for the Atlantic Coast Conference flag but could be pulled back to the field by dropping its final two games to N. State and South Carolina.

Harvard over Yale: Harvard needs a triumph in this traditional contest for a share of the Ivy League title. The Crimson boasts two top running backs in Bobby Leo and Vic Gatto, Yale has the better passer in Pete Doherty.

Princeton over Cornell: The Tigers' already the Big Three champions, could tie for the Ivy League honors with a victory. Arkansas over Texas Tech: It is almost monotonous, but if the Porkers win this one they are in the Cotton Bowl for the third straight year.

Danny's Field Goal Won Game And Also Saved Son's Life

By JACK DONOVAN
DALLAS (AP) — Dallas Cowboys' kicker Danny Villanueva, who admits, "This has not been one of my better seasons," probably kicked the most important field goal of his life last Sunday.

The kick, from the Washington 20-yard line with 15 seconds to play, gave Dallas a 31-30 victory. It possibly saved the life of his 3-year-old son Jimmy.

While Papa Villanueva was 1-400 miles away in Washington playing football, Jimmy had visited a friend in the apartment complex where Danny, his wife Myrna, and their two sons live.

After the game Jimmy was running home and was so excited about his father winning the game that he fell into a swimming pool. A neighbor, Robert Somerell, saw the boy fall, jumped into six feet of water and rescued Jimmy.

"I don't know what would have happened if I had missed that field goal," Villanueva said today. "It is so ironic. I had kicked a field goal that won a game."

"A terrific roar went up in the apartment house when the game was over and he (Somerell) went to the door to go outside and saw my boy falling in the pool."

Villanueva, 29, in his seventh year in the National Football League, said the game-winning kick was the "finest hour of my career. The team needed it and the town needed it. I never kicked a bigger one."

"This has not been one of my better seasons. I'm not hitting the ball as well as I should have. This field goal just might do wonders for me."

Villanueva, who came to the Cowboys last season in a trade with the Los Angeles Rams, added that the moment he went on the field to try the three-point "I had an awful feeling I just can't describe."

"I had it in my power to save or destroy a season. It was a season for a whole town. I never saw a town more emotionally involved in a team than Dallas."

The Cowboys, 1 1/2 games behind Eastern Division leader St. Louis and needing the victory to stay in contention, were met by an estimated 3,000 persons at the airport when they arrived home Sunday night.

But it will be the defense that decides.

Here's how the other major battles Saturday look:

UCLA over Southern California: The tension for this one, which will decide the Pacific 8-Rose Bowl representative, has been building since a year ago, when UCLA squeaked past the Trojans, 20-14.

Wyoming over Brigham Young: Here's another one that pits the two top contenders for conference title against each other. With the Western Athletic loop laurels at stake, the nod goes to Jerry DePoyster of the Cowboys.

North Carolina State over Clemson: Clemson already has won at least a tie for the Atlantic Coast Conference flag but could be pulled back to the field by dropping its final two games to N. State and South Carolina.

The pressure and suspense is building in Saugerties, as Bill Schirmer and the University of Miami Hurricanes make their big moves toward a post-season bowl invitation.

Schirmer and his teammates figure on trouncing Iowa Friday in the Orange Bowl and then go for broke against powerful Florida in Gainesville on Nov. 26. It is almost a certainty that the winner of this all-citrus classic will get a bowl nod.

You won't find Miami in the Top Ten but Ernie Schirmer, the Saugerties barrister and proud father of a brilliant football clan, quickly points out that Miami dumped both Southern California and Georgia from the ranks of the unbeaten USC, a coast power has been in the elite group all season, Georgia was ninth a week ago.

The Hurricanes have made remarkable progress after a rough start which saw them lose two of their first three games by a total of five points. Since Oct. 1, Miami is 4-0-1 and P. Schirmer, the original Hurricane, predicts it will be 7-2-1 late on the afternoon of Nov. 26.

Last Saturday Miami was in command all the way in a 38-14 smashing of Pittsburgh. Coach Charlie F. used his reserves freely, throwing 29 men into the game on defense and 34 on offense. The third unit gave Pitt two touchdowns on a long pass and blocked punt in the final two minutes of action. Schirmer helped Miami limit the Panthers to 30 yards rushing.

• This Is Strictly Pick-Em

Most of the monumental wagering that will be inspired by Notre Dame-Michigan State's "Game of the Half Century" Saturday will be at pick-em, which means even money. The Minneapolis boys have been the Fighting Irish a 3½-point favorite on the opening line, but Notre Dame's long history of frustration and disappointment at East Lansing, however, equalizes the point spread. The Michigan suburb has been a Siberia for great Irish teams of the past and the weather prediction for Saturday is quite cold and clear. One thing is assured—the largest college TV football audience in history, with ND-Michigan State in the opener and USC and UCLA following with their Pacific Coast brawl later in the day.

QUOTE OF THE WEEK—Indiana coach John Pont's observation about ND vs. Michigan State: "I wish they had settled it in the first two or three weeks of the season. Then they wouldn't be vying to see which could run up the biggest score every Saturday."

Rebuttal came quickly from Notre Dame's Ara Parseghian and State's Duffy Daugherty, who crossed their hearts and explained: "Listen, fellows, what more can we do than clear the benches every Saturday."

• Names in the News

John H. Demenoff of New Paltz earned his freshman football numerals Bowdoin College, Maine. John Patterson of Shokan won first prize in the Rock Bass division of the October segment of the Genesee Fishing Contest for New York State. Patterson caught a 2 lb., 8 ounce beauty in Long Pond near Williston on Oct. 2. Defeat is worse than death because you have to live with it. Coach Tom Harper of Duke told a newspaperman, "After that debacle with Notre Dame, he must be doubly convinced. Is Andy Murphy readying an important announcement about the city's athletic field setup? ... 1966 All-UCAL selections will be announced Friday. ... Can the football Giants really give the improving Atlanta Falcons five points and win Sunday at Yankee Stadium? ... Tom Mar of Liberty High, a 6-5, 250-pound brother of a lad, terrified AUCAL opponents from his tackle slot this season. But wait until 1967 (and 1968)! The kid, you see, is only a sophomore!"

Powder Puff Football Game Sated Sunday

The annual Powder Puff football game between the teen Tri-Hi Club of the YWCA and the YMCA girls of the Hi-Y Club will be played Sunday at 2 p. m. at Dietz Stadium.

The public is invited to the contest which is sponsored by the YWCA of Kingston. A small donation is requested.

Miss Sally Goffredi, captain of the Tri-Hi team already has her girls practicing diligently and a workout was scheduled this evening at 5 o'clock at the Academy Green.

The two-handed touch game will be played on an 80-yard gridiron in eight-minute quarters. Eleven players constitute a team. Rules of football regarding penalties will prevail.

Perry's 268-674 New Highs

It was a night for the little guy in area bowling Tuesday night.

Paul Perry smashed two league records with 268-674 in the Central Rec, eclipsing Ernie Bartroff's 266-664. His other games were 193-213.

Kathy DeCicco fired a 604 on 231, 185, 188 to shatter Mary Kennelly's 591 record.

Runnerup to Perry was Sheldon Levy with a 655 blast on 214, 182 and 269 in the Good Neighbor League. Al Sang-er, a 160 average bowler, reeled off 257, 179 and 214 for 650, a new high series in the Frontier League.

Other top female scores were Marion Sanford's 575 (Monday Nite Mixer) and Sis Balash's 558 in the Sangi Bowlerettes.

Will Hahn, a 153 average roller, posted 633 and Frank Leone

(157) had 622 in the Ferraro

Booster. John Fransch shot 629.

Norman Reamer threw eight strikes in a row for a career high

246 solo in the Good Neighbor

Clergymen to Help

SCHENECTADY, N.Y. (AP) — A group of clergymen are offering their "good offices" to help settle a month-old strike at the General Electric Co. plant here.

"We are making ourselves available to supervise a secret ballot on the question of the strike," The Rev. Darwin Kirby Jr. said Tuesday.

The Rev. Kirby is rector of St. George's Episcopal Church here.

About 11,500 members of Local 301, International Union of Electrical Workers, struck the plant over what the union termed local grievances. Negotiations conducted by federal and state mediators in attempts to end the strike have been futile.

Earlier Tuesday, union leaders rebuked an offer by city's Chamber of Commerce, which called for union membership to vote in secret on the company's latest contract offer.

Drug Firm File Suits

NEW YORK (AP) — Two wholesale drug firms have filed separate antitrust suits in federal court seeking a total of $15 million in damages from a group of major pharmaceutical, cosmetic and perfume manufacturers.

The suits filed Tuesday charged the defendants — including a detective agency — had engaged in an industrial espionage plot in an attempt to boycott the plaintiff's firms and fix prices.

The H.L. Moore Drug Exchange, Inc., of New Britain, Conn., and Hyman Fox, who does business as the Wholesale Drug Co. of New Rochelle, N.Y., filed the suits under provisions of the Sherman Antitrust Act.

THEY WILL PROFIT — Among those who will be helped through the current Ulster County Muscular Dystrophy fund drive are Cindy Kolb and Gary Collins, youthful MD victims of Sauergeries. They are among more than a dozen county children who suffer from the disease. This week, the local MD chapter thanked all those who donated time and services and made purchases at the rummage sale in Woodstock last Saturday to benefit MD. Planned for the near future to aid MD are a garage sale at the Hanson home, opposite Boice's store, Route 213, Olivebridge, beginning at 9 a. m. Saturday. In addition, Friday, Nov. 25, will be Kingston Tag Day, when volunteers from Kingston Paid Fire Fighters will collect in the city in an annual affair which began before the MD Chapter was formed in this area. On Saturday, Nov. 26, women of the Sauergeries unit will hold a cake sale for the fund drive at Grant's in Simmons Plaza, beginning at 10 a. m.

To Undergo Tests

UTICA, N.Y. (AP) — Lavern J. Knisely, accused in the fatal stabbing of a 20-year-old housewife, is to undergo psychological tests to determine whether he is able to understand the charge against him.

Knisely, 32, of Utica, appeared Monday on a first-degree murder charge before Peace Justice Leo C. Townsend of the Town of New Hartford, who ordered the tests and adjourned the case until Dec. 14.

The unemployed father of two was returned to Oneida County Jail without bail.

Knisely was arrested Saturday in the death of Mrs. Faith C. Smith of nearby Clayville. State Police said they found the woman's body in Knisely's automobile, which they stopped after receiving an anonymous telephone tip.

Police said Mrs. Smith, who had no children, was an "acquaintance" of Knisely's.

Troopers said they believed the stabbing took place in Clinton, about 10 miles from Utica. They declined to offer a cause for the stabbing, however.

Meat Ban Still Topic

WASHINGTON (AP) — Whether to lift the Friday ban on eating of meat still faces Catholic bishops, who argued with the government Tuesday over birth control.

The meatless Friday question now is scheduled for discussion later this week at a conference of 219 bishops, archbishops and cardinals. It was supposed to come up Tuesday but was still under behind-the-scenes study.

'Wrath'

PITTSBURGH (AP) — When residents of suburban Whitehall banded together to oppose plans for an expressway through their community, they called themselves "WRATH." That's "Whitehall Residents Against The Highway."

$23,450 for Antique Cars

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Wilbur Christensen, a suburban highway contractor, paid $23,450 for four antique automobiles at an auction in Denver Tuesday.

His top purchases were $10,750 for a 1920 Pierce-Arrow and $8,500 for a 1922 Rolls-Royce Phantom. Christensen said that although he paid more for the Pierce-Arrow, he considers the Rolls-Royce the centerpiece in his 11-car collection.

Arthur G. Rippey, retired Denver advertising man, said the auction of his 30 veteran and antique automobiles, several carriages, assorted headlamps and horns brought $164,675 from other collectors. All the cars are in running condition.

Dear Heloise:

When making tablecloth place mats, and such, by laying threads out on the edge of the material to form a fringe, if you run a machine across the ends of the thread, or around the four corners as far as you want the fringe to go in — it will stop there.

Otherwise, in most materials the fringe is apt to go in and out and sometimes unevenly, and is of general use and washing.

Also, it is much better to use the particles, who soiled their wash them by hand, because I find my washing machine whips the fringe and makes them ragged.

HOW WOULD YOU LIKE A FLAT?

YOU WILL LOVE A FLAT . . . A FLAT ENAMEL, THAT IS! BY McDougall-Butler

McDougall-Butler's MATTONA FLAT ENAMEL is an Alkyd Flat Enamel that dries overnight to a beautifully soft, warm, matte finish. It comes in fourteen sparkling colors that last and last, through scrubbing after scrubbing. Surface smudges whisk away with detergent and water. Finger prints and playtime grime disappear with ease. Repeated washing won't fade the durable film of MATTONA FLAT ENAMEL. The colors stay as bright and gay as the very first day.

May Encounter Control Battle At GOP Parley

WASHINGTON (AP) — Moderate Republicans may encounter stiff opposition in their efforts to get GOP governors to spearhead a move to wrest party control from the conservatives.
 GOP Gov. Mark O. Hatfield of Oregon, who welcomes the label of liberal, points to a Republican governors' meeting in Colorado Springs, Colo., Dec. 9-10 as a likely forum for the moderates to get together behind a single candidate for the 1968 party presidential nomination.
 "We can't afford to let happen in 1968 what happened in 1964," Hatfield said at a news conference Tuesday.
 The governor, elected to the Senate last week, made it clear he was alluding to the moderates' frustrations of two years ago. At that time New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's entry into presidential primaries kept other progressive candidates out of the race until it was too late to defeat conservative Barry Goldwater for the presidential nomination.
 But if the moderates expect to duplicate the 1952 feat of former New York Gov. Thomas E. Dewey in rallying nearly all of the Republican state executives behind a single candidate — in that case, Dwight D. Eisenhower — they may run into some stiff resistance.

105th Birthday

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Mrs. Florence A. Elliott, observing her 105th birthday, said she has no worries — "I let God take care of my worries."
 She was guest at a small birthday party in her room at the Episcopal Church Home.
 Mrs. Elliott no longer can do needle work but she still reads the Bible. She spends much time in a wheel chair, although not bedridden.
 Her husband, Frank, an orchardist, died in 1923.
 The Episcopal home is at 509 Mount Hope Ave.

Ellenville Initiation Set Monday by OES

Initiation of a number of new members will be conferred at the next meeting of the Wawarsing Chapter, 253 Order of the Eastern Star, Monday 8 p.m. in the Masonic Temple, Canal Street, Ellenville.
 Draping of the Altar will also take place for sisters of the chapter, who died this year.
 Rehearsal of officers for this meeting will be held this Thursday, 8 p. m.
 Worthy Matron Gertrude Phillips reminds those who are expecting to donate Christmas presents for the residents of the OES Home at Oriskany, to deliver them to her or bring them to the meeting Monday night.
 Gifts should be wrapped in Christmas wrapping, tagged, giving size and name of contents. Food should not be donated.
 A social hour will follow the initiation meeting.

glass and lace was virtually destroyed. An estimated 80 per cent of the livestock in Tuscany, livestock center of Italy, was reported destroyed along with thousands of acres of Chianti vineyards that produce Italy's most famous exported wine.
 About 6,000 shops in Florence and an equal number in Venice were wrecked. Hotels and restaurants were washed out. A severe drop in income from tourism was expected.

Saddens World Experts

The art loss brought sadness to experts the world over. Some 1,300 masterpieces were damaged by water and mud in Florence, including nearly 900 works of the first rank.
 Dr. Ugo Procacci, superintendent of Florentine Galleries, estimates it will take 20 years or more to repair the art that can be restored.

Giving ZIP Code Data Adds New Postal Strain

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Post Office, its facilities strained by a record flow of pre-Christmas mail, is struggling to answer millions of requests for ZIP code information — the result of last month's national ZIP Code Week promotion.
 During the week of Oct. 10-15 the Post Office distributed about 95 million post cards — called ZIP-a-lerts — to nearly every household in the nation.
 Each card had 13 spaces for addresses. The Householder could list the addresses of those with whom he frequently corresponds and returns the cards to local post offices. There, clerks would fill in the ZIP code for each address and mail the cards back to the householder.
 Although postal officials say they have no idea how many of these cards were returned to local post offices for completion, some postmasters are reporting dates of return from 5 to 60 per cent and higher. Cards still are coming in.
 Assuming only a 20 per cent average, that's 19 million post cards. Since a postal spokesman estimates cards are averaging 10 addresses each, that means postal clerks are looking up about 190 million ZIP code numbers and filling in that many blanks.

The ZIP code work comes on the heels of a just-settled postal crisis in which at least one principal post office — in Chicago — was practically paralyzed with a giant backlog of undelivered mail.
 Since then, the department has hired 150,000 extra Christmas workers one month early — at a cost of about $30 million — to help keep the mails flowing.
 While the Post Office will not say how much it is costing to answer all the ZIP code requests — or to promote the ZIP code, for that matter — officials are convinced that whatever the cost it's worth it.
 The department expects to save about $60 million a year with the ZIP code. Much of this sorting of second and third class mail by the mailers. This saving will result from the pre-comes mandatory Jan. 1.
